INTERNATIONAL PRISON CONGRESS.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The London Times, of the 11th instant, in its report of the proceedings of the International Prison Congress of the day previous, has the following: The Rev. Mr. Brace read a paper on the operation of industrial schools in New York. He explained the management of the schools, and stated that after the children had been instructed in the schools employment was readily found for them. The particular institution of which he spoke had sent two thousand two hundred children to honest employment in families in the West, converting children to the ranks of industry and rescuing them from the ranks of viciousness, idleness and crime.

Mr. Howe, of Ohio, made an interesting statement, describing the treatment of boys in a reformatory and industrial institution in that State. Kindly and trusting treatment had the happiest effect, and he especially remarked on the powerful influence of giving boys gardens to cultivate.

Sir J. Buxton, M. P., after referring to Brace's speech, said he desired to ask some questions. He understood that the time during which the children where retained in the New York institution was about six months, a term which was much shorter than that during which the children were detained in the English institutions, the term in this country being seldom less than twelve or eighteen months. If this information as to six months was correct, he desired to know if the shorter time of detention was owing to the circumstances of the American population, rendering it easier than in this country to place a child out.

The Chairman said Buxton had correctly understood the operation of the industrial school system in New York, and he stated that children there were not criminal, but simply neglected children, and it was not held necessary to keep the children long in school. It was peculiarly favorable to the institution that in the West were great demands for youthful labor. The homes there were not luxurious; but though plain, there were no better homes in the world, and children grew up into the useful yeoman class. [Cheers.]

Mr. Foote, of Ohio, spoke in explanation of the satisfactory progress of reformatory and industrial school work in America. He also paid the highest tribute to the labors of an Englishman, Robert Waterton, in America, and declared, amid applause from his American brethren, that Waterton had done more for the poor in America than Peabody had done for the English poor.

Mr. Hendrickson, of Wisconsin, and Sir John Bowring and others, also addressed the meeting.

THE GENEVA ARBITRATION.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The World's London letter says that appended to the argument of the British agent before the Geneva tribunal under the fifth article of the treaty is the report of the Commissioners of the Board of Trade relative to the claims of the United States. After examining these claims, which were for some twenty-five millions of dollars, the Commissioners say that eight million dollars will be sufficient to cover them.

LONDON, July 20.—It is impossible to give any idea of the probable duration of the present session of the Geneva Arbitration.

SECRECY OF THE ARBITRATION.

GENEVA, July 20.—The gentlemen connected with the Board of Arbitration still preserve the most profound secrecy on the subject of its proceedings. The Counsel of the Governments of Great Britain and the United States refuse to answer any communications on the questions pending in order to prevent the interference of the news papers and the possibility of their exercising any influence on the minds of the arbitrators. Hereafter the Board will hold five sessions per week, sitting every day except Saturdays and Sundays.

THE QUESTION OF DAMAGES.

LONDON, July 21.—The London Observer's correspondent at Geneva writes: If the award of damages made by the Board of Arbitration is substantial and liberal, England and the United States will be friends; if trivial, a dangerous state of ill-feeling in America will be the result.

The examination of the two captured assassins develops the existence of an extensively organized conspiracy.

THE ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

MADRID July 21.—Three of the would-be assassins of the King and twenty seven alleged accomplices have been arrested. Admiral Topete has warned the authorities against dangerous demonstrations. The escape of the King was a narrow one. One of the horses attached to the Royal carriage received seven pistol shots.

Moscow is now suffering from the disease in a malignant form. The proportion of deaths to recoveries is eight to one. Thousands of the better classes are fleeing into Western Europe. At St. Petersburg a few sporadic cases have appeared. The authorities are cutting off communication between the capital and the infected districts.

Unpleasant relations existed between the members of the band since its organization.

DISORDERLY GREELEY MEETING IN NEW YORK.

The Solid Business Men of New York in Favor of Grant.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Senator Harlan stated in an interview yesterday that he felt entirely certain of Grant's election. In the course of the conversation he said: "When I arrived here a few days ago my first impression, formed from casual conversation with gentlemen I met at the hotel, was that Greeley was showing considerable strength. But that impression has now given place to a conviction that that strength is very much more apparent than real. All the solid business men that I have seen are strongly in favor of General Grant, and seem determined to do their utmost to secure his election, while the men who support Greeley are mostly Democrats or aspiring young politicians, who think they will find a better field for ambition in a new party. From the present indications there seems to me no doubt that the Republicans who nominated Mr. Greeley at Cincinnati are beginning to think the situation rather serious, and many of them, or at any rate many of the votes they influence, will be driven back into the regular party by fear of Democratic ascendency. Mr. Greeley has simplified matters very greatly by declaring that he will recognize no party distinctions among his supporters in the distribution of patronage in the event of his election. That means of course that offices will be given away in proportion to the support received in the campaign, and as the Democrats will give nine votes out of every ten cast for him, they will obtain the lion's share. If Greeley is elected, I think Southern Democrats will claim a large share of offices, both at home and abroad, and that might give rise to trouble."

Senator Harlan further said that Greeley is the weakest possible candidate that could have been selected, and that all the business men of the country are perfectly satisfied with the present administration, and favor its continuance.

Simon Cameron was interviewed a few days ago, and said there could be little doubt of the success of Hartranft in the State election, and that the Liberal Republicans and Greeley grumblers have very little strength, and that Grant will secure ten Democratic votes where Greeley gets five Republican votes.

Greeley Notes.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Long Island Republican Central Committee was found at its last meeting to be composed of three Greeley men, three Grant men, and one Independent. This discovery has caused some little excitement, as it is said the Greeley men will be able to control matters and electing new members, leaving the opposition to litigate for books, funds, &c.

The attempt to organize a Greeley Central Committee from the various Greeley Clubs, last evening, resulted in a meeting which was characterized by great confusion and disorder.

Horace Greeley had an hour's interview with Gratz Brown yesterday at the Lincoln Club rooms. Augustus Schell, the new Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, subsequently had a consultation with Greeley as to the manner of conducting the campaign.

Among others, it is reported that A. T. Stewart has given $30,000 to aid in the election of Greeley.

A "Liberal" Lie Nailed.

MILWAUKEE, July 20.—The report having been circulated that General Grant had authorized a bet on his election, the editor of the Daily Wisconsin addressed a note to Long Branch, and received the following reply from General Porter, the President's private secretary: "The President directs me to say, in regard to that charge, that he never in his life made a bet upon the result of an election, nor has he authorized or advised any one to do so. He had no knowledge that any one had made a bet with Mr. Wilkes until he read an announcement in the newspapers."

The Principles of the Republican Party Discussed by Senator Morton.

LEXINGTON, IND., July 19.—Gov. Morton made one of the most effective speeches of the campaign to-day to an audience of several thousand persons. He was followed by Lieut. Gov. Will. Cumback in an effective speech, in which he discussed the principles of the Republican party, and the sham features of the so-called reform party now under the leadership of Horace Greeley.

Democratic Mass Meeting in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 21.—The Democratic mass meeting held last night at the Academy of Music was quite large. Hon. E. S. Alvord, Chairman of the Central Committee, presided. Hon. T. A. Hendricks made the principal speech, of which the following is an extract:

Mr. Greeley is known to differ with the Democrats and many Republicans.

A Democrat not for Greeley—Republican Convention.

CAIRO, ILL., July 20.—Hon. W. H. Green, of Cairo, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, has declined the appointment as Greeley elector from the Eighteenth District.

The Republican Convention met here to-day and appointed delegates to the Congressional Convention at Anna.

TOLEDO, O., July 20.—The Lucas County Republican Convention to choose delegates to the Republican Congressional Convention to be held on the 25th, met in this city to-day. The delegates chosen were instructed to support the nomination of George R. Haynes, of Toledo, for Congress.

Grant's Popularity in Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, July 20.—A special to the Democrat from Atcheson, Kansas, says Senator Pomeroy has arrived at home, and will soon enter upon the canvass of the State for Grant. Grant clubs are being formed throughout Northern Kansas, and great enthusiasm prevails.

How the Greeleyites Ratify.

LOUISVILLE.

Completion of the Exposition Building—Criminalities.

LOUISVILLE, July 20.—The completion of the Industrial Exposition was celebrated to-day by an immense mass meeting of citizens in the building. Twenty thousand people were in attendance, with music and speaking. The doors were thrown open at five o'clock, and the speaking commenced a few minutes after seven. Mr. Byer spoke in behalf the contractors, delivering the keys to the directors. Hon B. J. Webb responded on behalf of the company. Among the speakers were General William Preston, General John W. Fennell, ex-Governor Bramlette and other distinguished citizens. The three oldest citizens in the city were present, being driven into the center of the lower hall in a carriage. The crowd regarded it as a thorough test of the building, which is of the most substantial character, capable of sustaining twice the weight that can be put on it. Many business houses were closed, in accordance with the request of the Board of Trade, to permit their employes to attend.

The building is the largest of the kind in the United States. It is 330 feet on Fourth street by 230 feet on Chestnut, covering an area of 7,600 square feet, with extensive galleries, and a basement 90 by 100 feet. The entire floor space is over 125,000 square feet. The interior is well lighted and ventilated, and is the coolest place in the city. It is closed now for decorations till the opening of the exposition on September 3d. The success of the exhibition is assured beyond question. Applications for space are coming in daily. The occasion to-day was one of more general interest than any that has occurred in Louisville since the Commercial Convention. The proceedings closed with a banquet to the press. At night the building will be lighted with over 3,000 gas gets.

CRIMINALITIES.

Last week, in Christian county, James Reed poisoned Fred. Harper, giving him whisky containing strychnine. Harper died in two hours.

A. J. Legge, of Georgia, was brought here and lodged in jail, to await a requisition from Tennessee, where he is charged with the murder of a man named Seymour, in Hawkins county. He is also charged with the murder of a man in Georgia.

BUFFALO.

Fires.

BUFFALO, July 20.—Evans & Co.'s planing mills, adjoining the lumber piles of Clark, Holland & Co., and Hamilton & Co., were burned this morning. The loss was about one hundred thousand dollars.

The fire at Grober & Co.'s refinery destroyed about two hundred barrels of oil. Eighty men were thrown out of employment by the Evans planing mill fire, and eight hundred more by the temporary suspension of King's iron works.

ADDRESS OF THE Workingmen's National Protective Tariff League.

ORGANIZE FOR PROTECTION.

Organize against Free Traders.

ORGANIZE WORKINGMEN OF THE UNITED STATES.

Organize to Guard Our Industries Against Destruction, Our Labor Against Unfair Competition of Foreign Labor.

Fellow Workingmen of the United States:

The time has come for our unification as workingmen. Experience has demonstrated that it is unwise and unsafe to trust our interests to the control of others, as long as those principles of political economy and general government which most vitally affect us are not permanently established, but are still the subject of legislative wrangling or administrative discretion.

Without unity of sentiment as to what our interests demand, supported by unity of action, we are nothing, although in numbers we are a million. Yet we are divided in sentiment, and without any common principle of action, and not agreed upon any means to carry out those principles which affect us all alike.

We owe our present prosperity to the industrial and commercial activity which has been stimulated and sustained by the protective tariff of the past eleven years.

We cannot afford to work for the low wages paid to labor in foreign countries, and therefore we must look to a protective tariff which will protect us from an unfair competition with foreign labor, for our own means of earning a comfortable livelihood.

Three times in our history we have been precipitated into national bankruptcy by lowering duties on imports to the extent which permitted the products of foreign labor to supplant our home labor.

First, in 1817, our labor was idled and our industries destroyed, and the nation reduced to poverty. Again, in 1837, reduced duties on imports compelled American merchants to go idle, the American farmer to permit his crops to rot, and brought poverty to every door. Again in 1857 low duties closed mills, shops and factories over the land, and reduced all classes to comparative want, because none could earn money enough to pay for English imported products. These national disasters have occurred in periods of twenty years, and events indicate the possible recurrence of a similar disaster at the expiration of another twenty years.

A large number of persons acting under the belief that tariff duties are a tax on consumers, disregarding the dearly bought lessons of history and experience, and turning from the dictates of sober reason, are seeking to overturn and destroy the system of protection, by which our nation and we individually have been lifted into comfort and plenty.

This class of persons are seeking to engraft their opinions and theories of political and industrial development upon the policy of the national government, by the election to offices of trust and honor of persons pledged to the establishment of these false and pernicious views. They desire to transform this nation into a commercial dependency of a foreign nation, as it formerly was a colonial dependency.

Our interests as workingmen are at stake. If we wait longer before organizing for our protection, we will be too late. While our purpose is not for aggessive political action, we mean to unite, and by that unity exercise a healthful influence upon all matters affecting our interests.

We therefore appeal to you, fellow-workingmen of the United States, to unite with us in a Workingmen's National Protective Tariff League to promote and maintain a protective tariff.

Address Corresponding Secretary, Workingmen's National Protective Tariff League, office Iron World building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

PREAMBLE AND EXTRACTS FROM CONSTITUTION.

WHEREAS, Experience has shown that a protective tariff is the best means by which the workingmen of the United States can secure that fair rate of wages for their labor which justice and equality demand they should receive; and whereas a large class of persons in the United States are seeking to overturn the protective tariff policy of the national government, and to substitute for it a revenue tariff only, which will cause largely increased importations of the products of foreign low-priced labor, by which workingmen of the United States would be deprived of employment, and the rate of wages depressed by that unjust competition; and whereas, protection to American labor is the source of individual and national prosperity, to consumers as well as producers, in agriculture as well as manufactures; therefore

We, the undersigned workingmen of the United States, in order to promote and maintain protection to American industries and American labor, do hereby unite ourselves in a Workingmen's National Protective Tariff League, under the following constitution:

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. This association shall be known as the Workingmen's National Protective Tariff League.

SECTION 3. The object of the Workingmen's National Protective Tariff League shall be to promote and maintain a protective tariff, for the promotion of American industries to such an extent that the capitalists and manufacturers of other countries cannot, by importing the products of foreign labor, bring the low-priced labor of other countries into competition with the labor of this country.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 2. Any ten men desiring to form a sub-league who will acknowledge the jurisdiction of the National League, shall be entitled to a charter when properly applied for, upon payment of the charter fee, and shall be entitled to a representation in the National League, as follows: Every Sub-League shall be entitled to one representative. Every Sub-League having one hundred members shall be represented by two delegates, and for every additional hundred they shall be entitled to one delegate. Each delegate will be entitled to one vote, but cannot vote unless present at the meeting of the National League.

Good News for Pennsylvania Veterans.

All men of the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps (there being twelve regiments of the same) who enlisted in the State service prior to July 22, 1861, for three years, and who were mustered into the State service prior to August 6, 1861, are now considered by a recent decision of the Adjutant General, U. S. A., as coming under the act of April 22, 1872, and the soldiers of such organizations can now apply to the Second Auditor of the Treasury Department for their bounty, provided they had not served long enough to and did not receive $100 bounty for such service.

This act does not take cognizance of the widows or heirs of deceased soldiers. It will let in only those men who are yet living and who were discharged before having served two years. The number to thus benefited will probably aggregate 8,000 persons. A large number of these men were killed in action before their regiments were mustered into the United States service.

Particulars of the Recent Railway Accident.

NEW YORK, July 20, 1872.

THE RECENT RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

A Herald dispatch says the accident on the New York Central Railroad, yesterday, presented a scene which beggared description. The occupants of the smoking car, to which the loss of life was confined, were fastened, and pleading for help in a way which was sickening. One man had his head wedged in a window, and could not get it out. Holes had to be chopped with axes in the cars to relieve the sufferers. The engineers had jumped from both trains before the collision. E. Burnham Smith, who was killed, was a wholesale boot seller of Detroit, and well known throughout the country. The unidentified man killed is supposed to be Jeremiah Stoneing, a billiard table manufacturer of Buffalo.

RAILWAY SUIT.

Erie has enjoined Jay Gould and D. S. White from disposing of the stock of the Jefferson Railroad Co.

The suit brought by the Erie Railroad Company against the Jefferson Railroad is to break up a contract made by Jay Gould by which it is alleged Gould came into possession of 40,000 shares of Jefferson railway stock, which is now held in trust for him by Justin D. White. The complaint further charges Gould with withdrawing from the Erie Railroad $184,000 of Jefferson Railroad bonds, and submitting an equal amount of doubtful bonds.

HOUSE OF REFUGE INVESTIGATION.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—The investigation into the affairs of the House of Refuge continues, but so far has disclosed little or nothing to bear out the charges of the grand jury. Boys had been whipped and put in cells on bread and water, but the rules of the institution allow such punishments for cause, and only in two cases has unusual severity been used.

A day or two ago the grand jury received a letter from W. C. Loomis, formerly overseer of the chair shop and musical director in the Refuge, and now Superintendent of the Cleveland House of Refuge, in which he speaks very severely of Superintendent Gleason, the system inaugurated by him, and charges great cruelty and inhuman treatment practiced upon children. Mr. Gleason replies to-day, stating that Loomis was discharged from the Refuge here for immoral conduct in connection with women, and publishes a letter from Loomis, in which he acknowledges it, asked that the past be forgiven, and requests that the matter shall be kept from the world and from the records of the institution as far as possibly. It was also in evidence that Loomis' conduct has been highly immoral and that he was dishonest.

TERRE HAUTE, July 21.—Edward Balton, a glass blower, formerly of Rochester, New York, died in this city yesterday from the effects of a fractured skull. The coroner's jury found that the fracture was caused by a blow from a rolling pin in the hands of a prostitute named Jennette Piersons.

William Reaves, of this city, had his skull fractured in a saloon to-day by a two-pound weight thrown by Frank Terrel. He will probably die.

On Saturday night an unknown man committed rape on the person of a young woman from Illinois in this city. He attacked her while she was passing from one railway station to another, dragged her into a vacant building, and forcibly compelled her to remain there several hours.

SOLDIERS' REUNION.

The annual soldiers' reunion at Farmersburg on Saturday was attended by an immense crowd. There was a feast, a procession, and lots of music and oratory. B. W. Smith and R. S. Tannant were the principal speakers.

ALABAMA.

Damage by Floods.

MONTGOMERY, July 20.—The damage by the late floods will reach five millions dollars. The water in central Alabama was higher than ever known at this season. Accessible houses along the streams were swept away by scores. The cotton crop of Alabama will be cut forty thousand bales short.

Visitors to the President.

LONG BRANCH, N. Y., July 20.—President Grant received a number of prominent citizens from the west to-day, and also a number of Southerners, who bring favorable reports of the campaign.

THE CAPITAL.

The Privateer Pioneer Subject to the Courts.

WASHINGTON, July 21, 1872.

THE CASE OF THE PIONEER.

The New York Herald's dispatch states that Capt. Norton, of the Cuban privateer Pioneer, had an interview with Secretary Fish yesterday. Fish declined recognizing Norton as a Cuban officer, although Norton was in full uniform, but discussed the matter of the seizure of the Pioneer. Norton claimed that the Pioneer was sold to the Cuban authorities at St. Marc, Hayti, where, having sold the cargo, she took from New York, under the name of Resolute, her register as the Resolute, was divided according to law at St. Marc, one-half being sent to Minister Bassett and the other half being retained by Norton, who gave it up to the United States authorities on Thursday last. Since her sale and change of name the Pioneer has not once hoisted the American flag, and when overhauled was four miles from land. Secretary Fish said the Pioneer must be subject to the action of the courts.

Captain Norton replied that that was what he desired, and reminded Fish that free Cuba was already recognized by Chili, Venezuela, Colombia, Grenada, and Peru. Fish asked Norton if he would haul down the Cuban flag now flying on the Pioneer; but Norton said he would leave that for an arm-ed force of the United States to do. Norton feels confident that the Pioneer will soon be released.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Partly cloudy and pleasant weather will probably prevail on Monday from the upper Lakes southward to the gulf; no material change is indicated for the south Atlantic States; cloud and rain with southerly winds prevail from New England to Virginia, followed on Monday night by north-west winds and clearing weather from Virginia to New York; brisk south-easterly winds will prevail for a short time only on the New England coast to-night, veering to south-west during Monday.

MIXED COMMISSIONS.

The American and Mexican Mixed Commission has done but little business since Palacios took the place of General Cushing as representative of the Mexican Government.

The American and Spanish Mixed Commission makes slow progress, owing to the difficulty and long time required in obtaining proofs in support of the claims.

PERSONAL.

A private letter from General Sherman says he will return to the United States in September.

Secretary Boutwell leaves for Graton this week.

CALIFORNIA.

Death of a Newspaper Reporter—Tribulations of the "Escaped Nun."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Mullen Dore, a reporter of the Call, who was shot by McCauslin ten days since, died to-day.

THE "ESCAPED NUN."

The case of Edith O'Gorman, the escaped nun, and husband, and Professor Auffrey and Thomas Ansbro and Smith, alias Allis, private detective, which has been creating much feeling here, terminated in the police court to-day. Edith and Auffrey caused the arrest of Ansbro for libel in publishing a statement that she was seen drunk in the street and buying whisky at two o'clock in the morning, etc. Ansbro returned and caused the arrest of Auffray on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Smith then swore to the assault and destroyed the testimony of Edith. Auffrey testified that he knew both of them in Australia. He also testified that she was one of the women of the town. He is a noted "sheep" forger. After a full hearing Judge Landerback discharged Auffrey, and committed Ansbro for trial for libel, and ordered Smith, alias Allis, into custody for perjury.

WHEELING.

Serious Accident to a Party of Pic-nickers.

WHEELING, VA., July 21.—This evening at six o'clock, a wagon coming down the Chapline Hill road with a load of returning pic-nickers, slipped off the road bed, and the passengers with the wagon and horses came tumbling down the hill. Mr. and Mrs. Barnhardt, a son, and Joseph Rhodes and Lizzie Karne were in the wagon. As they reached a point about two-thirds way down the hill the hind wheels of the wagon slid around, going over the embankment. Most of those in the wagon jumped out, but Miss Karne was unable to do so, and was carried down with the wagon, which came to a level place about half way down the hill and lodged. Mrs. Bornhardt was found to be pretty badly bruised, and Mrs. Kaine was badly cut and bruised about the head, besides having an arm and leg broken. The party had been attending a family picnic. Strange to say, the horses were not injured, although the fall was nearly one hundred feet.

The Bankruptcy of Charles T. Yerkes, Jr.

There was a meeting of the creditors of the defaulting City Treasurer, Charles T. Yerkes, Jr., held in Philadelphia on last Friday afternoon, the Register, Mr. Mason, presiding. The assignees of Mr. Yerkes were present; the assignee of Mr. Marcer was also in attendance. The city was represented by Assistant City Solicitor Wm. J. McElroy, Esq., and Wayne McVeigh, Esq., appeared as counsel for Mr. R. W. Mackey. The question before the meeting was as to a dividend of the funds in the hands of the assignees, which now amount to about $78,000. Several intermediate questions were raised. First, as to whether the debt of the city of Philadelphia has been proved, and if so, whether the city can claim a dividend on $478,000, or only on $78,000, being the sum less the $100,000 paid by the securities which the city claims.

The assignee of Mr. Marcer objects to a dividend being paid on the $100,000 realized from the securities. The last of these questions will be submitted to Judge Cadwalader. Another question was whether the claim of Mr. Mackey had been proved. This remains open for future consideration. A resolution was finally adopted in which the assignees agree to pay a dividend of ten per cent, on all the claims that have been proved, leaving open all questions of preference in respect to unadjusted claims. The debts of the bankrupt proved amount to $504,-000.

The Electoral College.

In the next House of Representatives there will be 292 members. There are 74 Senators, and these added to the members make 366, which is the number in the Electoral College. A majority is 184, which is the lowest number the candidate can have and win. Already the statisticians are figuring up the result, and laying claim on one side or the other to the votes of the States. It is amusing to look over the lists and to note the pertinacity with which the Liberals claim certain States, and the easy manner in which they elect Greeley. No one thinks of giving him less than 261 votes, or about eighty more than a majority. While they are about it, they might as well claim the whole College. It is the habit of new organizations to boast of their strength, and the Liberals assert their control of Electors just as the Know Nothings did in 1856, when Fillmore got 8 out of a total of 295. The Greeleyites may well take warning by this fearful example. It points them to a sure overthrow.

Another Ocean Line.

Another steam ship company, to run vessels between Great Britain and America, is announced. A million of pounds, in ten pound shares, have been subscribed, and the first ships are to be ready by spring. The eastern terminus for part of the vessels is to be Glasgow, and the western, New York; but some of them are to ply between Liverpool and New Orleans. The prospectus says that Glasgow has become one of the most important shipping ports in the world, and that, while five lines of steam ships ply between Liverpool and New York, there is but one between the latter city and Glasgow. It is generally acknowledged that there is a want of sufficient tonnage for the greatly increasing traffic of the Clyde, and the new line will doubtless prove a benefit to both countries.

SUMMER RECREATION.

Gossip from the Watering Places.

LEAVES FROM THE CORRESPONDENTS' NOTE-BOOKS.

More Genuine Rest and Less Dissipation the Rule.

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE AND PLACES.

SARATOGA.

That this place is the most popular summer resort in the United States no candid person will deny, however much he or she may admire Newport or Long Branch, the only real rivals Saratoga has. Upon leaving the cars the visitor is at once impressed with the appearance of the motley crowd assembled to stare at the incoming and outgoing travelers. Ladies and gentlemen are scarcely distinguishable among the hackmen, hotel runners and loungers in general, who wander from their hotels or boarding houses merely for a diversion from their ordinary idleness, thronging about the railroad stations, eyeing the ladies and jostling the gentlemen. While at Long Branch one meets almost wholly the representatives of the middle and lower classes, and at Newport beholds staid old ladies and portly gentlemen of the ton, nearly unmolested by the other classes, at Saratoga there is such an intermingling of all classes that foreigners are amazed, and declared it to be of all watering places. To be sure, there are cliques and coteries, but as a general rule any well-behaved and neatly appearing person will receive courteous treatment from all others, and will not be ostracized because unacquainted with the society.

There has occurred a very noticeable change in Saratoga society during the past few weeks. While now the so-called fashionable season is fully opened, then it had not perceptibly begun; and though there were many strangers here then, their object in coming was far different from that of those daily arriving in crowds. Thousands came here for the frivolous amusements instituted and carried on solely for the benefit of hotel-keepers, and they entirely ignore the sparkling waters, which are Saratoga's real treasures, and sources of health for many a care-worn man of business. Two weeks ago there could not be gathered from all the hotels a sufficient number of persons to form a fair-sized dancing party; but to-night there is a hop at each of the principal hotels, and apparently no lack of the followers of Terpsichore.

A GREAT FLUTTER AT THE CLARENDON.

A great flutter was caused yesterday at the aristocratic Clarendon. It seems that an undutiful young husband there has been flirting with a young lady at Congress Hall. The young lady belongs to some of the best families in the State. When the young lady's mother here found out that Mr. —— was married, she told her daughter that she must not see him any more, so lately the lovers have taken to writing letters. Yesterday, being in great haste to go to the races, the husband deposited a letter to his Congress Hall sweetheart in the Clarendon mail, but forgot to subscribe it on the outside! The clerk saw it and did'nt know what to do with it, but finally concluded to open it. The letter was only signed by the initials simply of the gentleman, and so it was passed around among the guests to find out who wrote it—to whose name they corresponded. Judge of the astonishment of everybody when it came out that the gushing love letter was written by one of the most respectable married gentleman at the Clarendon.

THE EVENING DRIVE.

At five o'clock the street between the Union and Congress is a dense mass of both private and public establishments, from the English gig, driven tandem, to the most expensive landau or coupe. As the owners come from dinner and appear on the front plaza, they all arise in order and leave for the lake or some other drive among the many in the vicinity. It is really a sight worthy of notice, and one which has become celebrated throughout the world. Wealth and talent, beauty and intelligence, all mingle together, and the lady who makes the most display in her grand outfit is always recognized as the leader, provided her intelligence and general appearance is equal to the emergency. The young belles are usually more prominent at balls, while the more mature and particular who are gifted socially, shine more in the parlor and promenade than otherwise.

SHARP PRACTICE.

Nobody knows what they do nights with these springs here. Many have suspicions that salt is put in while the community are asleep. My old Statistician says he has seen the Indians carrying salt sacks towards Congress Springs in the early hours of the morning. He is now drinking bottled Long Branch water—pure and unadulterated. All the Gilsey House boys drink the waters as prepared by Jerry, the barkeeper. The best Congress water is improved by a little brandy and a drop or two of amontolerdo sherry—say the Gilsey House boys.

NEWPORT.

"Newport beats even Saratoga in the extravagance of its prices. Mr. Lorillard, of New York, paid six thousand dollars rent for his six month's occupancy of a Newport cottage. Facts like these explain the American summer exodus to Europe." This is one of the many reports going the rounds of the press, the whole tenor of which is to convey a false impression in regard to the cost of a summer's residence at this, the queen of watering places. To be sure, Mr. Lorillard pays $6,000 for his villa for the season, but then he has one of the most magnificent and costly places in town. The situation, which is on the "Ledges," near "Spouting Rock," is unsurpassed on this or any other island. The house was built by Mr. E. D. Bait, of Boston, for his own use, and is accordingly furnished in the most costly manner. The rent is, under the circumstances, far from extravagant.

But all who come here do not rent $6,000 villas. Mr. Lorillard is the exception. Most of the cottages are rented for the season, which is five months instead of three, at from $800 to $2,000. Many in a respectable part of the town rent as low as $500, while, perhaps, three or four bring $3,000 and $4,000.

Again, the cost of living here has been greatly over estimated by irresponsible correspondents, who wish to make things appear as extravagant as possible. Every person lives here as he pleases. He does not pattern after his neighbor, but if he chooses to live within his means, be they ever so limited, he does so, and his social position is in no way disturbed. We know it to be a fact that four-fifths of our summer population live for less money than they can live the same number of months at their city homes.

INCREASE OF VISITORS.

Never before at this season of the year have there been so many guests present as now. This is not a random statement, but from careful observation and comparison with former years, I am convinced that such is the fact. "The summer exodus to Europe" does not affect Newport, or at least its effect is not felt. There have been more cottages rented this year than last, the boarding houses have all they can accommodate, and the hotels are by no means empty. Last Sunday the Ocean House had two hundred guests, the Atlantic House about one hundred, and the Aquidneck eighty. And this, it must be remembered, is at least three weeks before the busy part of the season opens.

LACK OF DISSIPATION.

Newport is becoming more and more each year a city of beautiful homes. Those who are in the habit of coming here come not for a day or week, as is the case with so many of the visitors at Long Branch and Saratoga, but they are here for the season. Hence the dearth of those fashionable balls and parties so pleasing to the Madame Jenkins, but so destructive to quiet rest and pure enjoyment. The guests feel that they are here for months, and are consequently in no haste for the beginning of the so-called pleasure season.

Only one reception has thus far been held, and that was a very imposing affair. It was none the less enjoyable, however. Indeed it was one of the most pleasant occasions witnessed at the Ocean House for years. The guests of the house were all present, and the cottagers came in in large numbers to help swell the throng. Among the most noticeable of those present were Mrs. Governor Hoffman and Miss Nellie Hoffman; Mrs. Francis Kernan and daughter, of Utica; Mr. and Mrs. Augustus L. Brown, of New York; General Ramsdell, of New London; Mrs. Osgood, daughter of Commodore Vanderbilt; Mrs. Daniel B. Allen and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, of Boston; Robert Lenox Banks, of Governor Hoffman's staff; R. S. Davis, C. B. Bigelow and wife, of Boston; Dr. C. K. Yancy and Rufus Hatch, of New York.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Miss Sargent, of Boston, the belle of the Atlantic House last year, is booked for a room here this season and is expected next week.

Weise's orchestra, of New York, arrived at the Ocean House this morning. They will give outdoor concerts again this year, a fact which those who contemplate visiting Newport will be happy to learn.

Colonel T. W. Higginson has returned from his two months' tour to England, and will spend the summer in Newport.

Walter Scott—not the Sir—is stopping at the Ocean House.

Marquis de Noaille's business manager is here, and has engaged for his master, who has just sailed from France, Hartshen's Cottage on Hallidden Hill, where the Marquis proposes to study American life and enjoy the cooling sea breezes during the present season.

Admiral Polo de Barnabe, the Spanish Minister, has taken rooms at Hartmann's new restaurant, on Bellevue avenue, where, with his son and secretary, he will remain during the summer. Monsieur Hartmann, the proprietor of this new restaurant, was the chef de cuisine at the White House during President Buchanan's administration, and his new house bids fair to be one of the most popular places in town.

Commodore Jacob Voorhis, of the Brooklyn Yacht Club, arrived in town this morning. He has taken one of the Cliff cottages.

CAPE MAY.

The routine of fashionable life at this place does not vary materially from that of other seaside resorts. There is music by the band in the forenoon from half-past 9 to 11 o'clock; at that hour the bathers of both sexes and of every color may be seen trooping in their nondescript uniforms for a plunge in the surf. The timid maiden and the stout, self-assured matron, escorted by the young gallant or the careful pater familias, cause the air to resound with their cries of merriment, as ever and anon some angry surge sends them reeling on the beach. The view of the bathers enjoying the exhilarating pastime is not as picturesque here on the beach as at Newport. There is an inclination on the part of the bathers to swarm in particular spots, which has the tendency to create some confusion, and collisions which could be avoided if the people from the different hotels were a little less exclusive. The morning ablutions having been accomplished, the visitors seek such amusements as suit them until the hour of dinner arrives.

At half past-past 6 the absorbing object of interest is the arrival of the trains from Philadelphia and New York. Hundreds congregate around the rude structure denominated a depot. Some are drawn thither with a view to welcome arriving friends and relatives, others come merely out of curiosity, to see and be seen.

I could not help observing how much the Jewish cast of countenance predominated among the women, as it does indeed, not merely at this particular spot, but in every hotel that I have chanced to visit.

THE "HOPS."

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings are designated for the regular weekly hops of the Stockton. The term "hop" is to my mind a misnomer, for the most of the people who attend them do almost anything but dance. There is plenty of music, but the most ravishing of waltzers fails to bring out more than a score of devotees of the terpsichorean art. The ladies in full evening costume, with escorts dressed in every conceivable style, promenade from one end of the hall to the other, a seat is suddenly discovered and they disappear, and, except to their immediate neighbors, are invisible for the rest of the evening. There is a practice, and it seems to me a very reprehensible one, of allowing young girls—mere infants in fact—to sit up to an unseemly hour in these heated ballrooms.

SEASIDE JOURNALISM.

Two newspapers of microscopic size are issued daily, and a somewhat larger sheet is published weekly. The Star is Republican; the Ocean Wave has as yet hung "no banner on its outer wall," but proposes to support the candidates of the Baltimore Convention if the State Committee will aid it pecuniarily.

TUSSLING WITH THE TIGER.

The big gambling house is nightly thronged and the tiger is tussled with with varying success. There is no secret at all about this establishment—no attempt to hide its real character. Not a lady on the island but knows where it is, and some of the fair dames have allowed their curiosity to get the better of their prudence and have visited it, not of course during play, but in the day time. They are always politely received and kindly initiated into the mysteries of faro and roulette. It may be that by next season they will have a special room for their use, where they can learn more than they now know of the ferocious beast. After a season or two the old Baden-Baden plan may be adopted and the doors of the club house opened to each sex alike. I do not know what would be the result (save a general scampering from the tables) if some lady were to demand admittance at night during the height of play.

NIAGARA FALLS.

It is surprising how few are the visitors. Storekeepers and cabmen seem aware of the fact; and whereas the former keep at a respectable distance and do not importune custom, through fear, probably, that the lack of buyers would lead them to reduce their prices and thus injure their sales when the busy season arrives, the latter, whose wants are more pressing and whose shrewdness is less delicate, beset the visitor at every point, worry him to the last stage of discomfort, and are more than ever the nuisance of Niagara. The cabmen have apparently demolished their old opponents. There was a time when war, lasting and terrible, was declared between cabby and guide. One warned the visitor against the other. They were rogues together, warring against each other, but having one purpose in common, to fleece the unsophisticated visitor. Now the guide has disappeared, or is almost extinct, and cabby reigns supreme.

THE BRIDAL COUPLES.

The oft-told tale of the rush of bridal couples to the Falls, there to spend the happiest and most gushing days of their honeymoon, cannot be repeated this year. Not that the weddings have been less numerous—indeed, statistics will show that Hymen has been called into requisition more frequently than last year. But the brides have heard their married brothers and sisters tell of the misery of the long ride from Philadelphia or New York to the Niagara depot, and they have preferred a shorter journey, and more variety in the month which is supposed to be of honeyed sweetness. The Jubilee, again, attracted many brides, and the stories of cheap traveling in Europe drove a number to the Old World. Still there are several of the newly married at the Falls, spending their days innocently and quietly, the gentlemen buying more than is needful of pin-cushions and work-baskets and card-receivers, all represented to be of Indian manufacture, and the ladies presenting their newly made lords with a like extravagant quantity of cigar-cases and slippers. They monopolize all the scanty benches and favorable rock-seats on Prospect Point, and spend hours gazing more into each other's eyes than at the brilliant wonders of the ever memorable Falls. These are the people who are the joy of the storekeepers and cabby. They are so happy themselves that they desire to make every creature in the vicinity equally comfortable; so they pay any price that the cabby may ask, visit every store of note, and contribute largely to the willing purses of the numerous proprietors who present so monotonous an exhibition of oboriginal workmanship.

SULPHUR SRPINGS.

People who go up to Sharon to take the sulphur baths are not aware that we now have hot and cold sulphur baths here.

Over about one mile north of the town is what is called the Eureka Sulphur Spring. There they have bath houses for hot and cold bathing. You can take a sulphur bath as hot as the Wiesebaden baths in Germany, if you want to. These baths are taken for rheumatism.

THE FASHIONS.

The fashions of this summer metropolis depend entirely upon the evening hops at the large hotels to display their wardrobes, though dinner is one of the legitimate exhibitions for display. It is not unsual at the Union, Congress or Clarendon, to see ladies in full dress, diamonds not excepted, at dinner. The immense bustles now worn so disfigure many ladies that it is hard to decide whether their proportions are real or imaginary. The tall and slim and short and fat all indulge in this absurdity. Long trains of expensive silks continue to sweep the sidewalks, and short dresses are the exception, not the rule. In fact the ball-room is full of immense trains, which not only annoy the wearer, but seriously impede navigation.

PAUPERISM AND CRIME.

Important Educational Inquiries.

The Bureau of Education at Washington, which has performed excellent service during the past two years under the direction of Commissioner Eaton, is about to enlarge its field of inquiry. The Commissioner has just issued two circulars, addressed respectively to the keepers of Almshouses and Prisons in all parts of the United States, soliciting information concerning the causes of Pauperism and Crime. It is particularly requested that the educational condition and previous social standing of our criminals and paupers shall be carefully designated, and the importance of arriving at accurate results in urged with emphasis. The inquiries in relation to convicts cover several interesting points—namely, their nativity, their age when convicted, their previous occupations, their education, social relations, and habits, and the condition of their parents. Under the head of "Social Relations," the inquiries are classified as follows: Married or single, separated from husband or wife, divorced, orphans, or half-orphans; and under the head of "Education," they are thus arranged: "Read and write; read only; no education; elementary; collegiate; professional." Prompt and full replies to these questions would furnish material for a valuable report from the Board of Education. Those who are interested in the study of the criminal classes, as well as educators and the community at large, would gladly receive the information which the Commissioner seeks to obtain. The call upon the keepers of our Almshouses should also meet with a prompt response, for the growth of pauperism in this country keeps pace with the rapid increase of immigration; and, besides, according to the returns of the last census, the prevalence of illiteracy in several States, populated almost exclusively by native born citizens, is shown to be the cause of much poverty and degredation. The investigation began by Commissioner EATON is therefore timely and welcome.

Summer Athletics.

The hotter the weather the more numerous the out door athletic and other amusements. When Sirius and the sun set the mercury bubbling in the thermometer, then the men of muscle strip to their work. Base ball matches are reported here and there over the country. The horse riding mania was never so zealously encouraged, and with the mercury among the nineties the fast horses are in the forties. Men and women, in the eager excitement of the race, pay no heed to the hot sun, and suffer as carelessly as the heated animals which come in reeking with prespiration. Now, too, the rowing regattas commence, and special interest centers upon the College match which, on the 23d instant, is to be rowed on the Connecticut river, just below Springfield. Crews are entered from Harvard, Yale, Williams, Amherst, and the Massachusetts Agricultural College. Crews are also expected from Bowdoin, Brown, the Wesleyan University, and Cornell. Already most of the crews have gathered for practice, and are under the hands of trainers. In this race there is a great interest all over the Union. The colleges above named have representatives everywhere, and the son of any Alma Master who would forget her crew would be unworthy of his birth right. This muscular practice, which was at first looked upon with suspicion by the college Dons, is now regarded with favor. The standard of scholarship is not lowered, but that of phsyical vigor is advanced. Collegians are no longer easy voluptuaries, bent over books, and closely immured within doors. They are strong and active men, ready to take a hand in any enterprise requiring force and courage. The gymnasium is now a part of every well-ordered college system, and the youth who was "sequestrated" from Yale a score of years ago for playing bowls, returns now to find the alley in full blast, and to be invented to a friendly match by the Professor who voted for his "leave of absence." All these are pleasant signs that progress reaches even the Academic shades.

CANONSBURG.

A Few Notes of the College.

MESSRS EDITORS:—Having spent a number of years at Canonsburg while attending Jefferson College, I am always anxious to hear about this place, and knowing that hundreds of other students who have been there, feel like myself in this respect, I am sure that a few facts which I have lately learned respecting the Canonsburg Academy will be interesting to many of your readers. According to the account by which the College at Canonsburg, and the one at Washington were united, an institution of lower grade than a college was to be established at whichever place should have its own college taken away. The united college having been located at Washington, the Trustees have set aside for the institution at Canonsburg the two college buildings and three houses for the professors, the college library and duplicated books in the society libraries and some of the scientific apparatus. The house known by the name "Fort Job" with two lots must be sold by the Trustees to pay their cost of the College litigations. The furniture of the societies and all the books except duplicate copies, the lyceum and most of the scientific apparatus must leave home and be set up in new quarters. It is the earnest hope of all interested in the institution at Canonsburg that its Directors, seven in number, will soon have the full control of the property about to be set over to their care. Canonsburg feels that the sooner they are in their own hands the better; and whatever she is to receive from the trustees she wants them in her own possession as the law requires. With regard to Colleges and Schools she does not believe in the saying that "In union there is strength;" she is proud, as she well may be, of the success which has attended the Academy and Normal School started there last fall and feels confident that this institution will stand among the first in the country.

Proposed Journalistic Change.

This important fact is stated by the New York Grocer. The individual alluded to is undoubtedly George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger:

"It is rumored in the street that a distinguished Philadelphia banker and newspaper man is negotiating for a New York paper which stands among the most influential. The sum offered for the buildings, presses, paper and good will of the concern is simply fabulous. The wealth and daring of the negotiator make the matter a probability, and, if the parties are in earnest, the sale will be consummated. If so, a very marvelous change will take place in one of the leading New York journals."

IT IS SO SELDOM that our neighbor down at Brimstone corner gets off anything good that we cannot restrain ourself from republishing the following retort courteous which he hurls malignantly at the head of the editor of our Virgin alley friend. It says in an air of honesty peculiar to itself:

The Pittsburgh Post is anxious to know where we stand concerning Cameron. We answer, precisely where we have always stood, and if the editor were disposed to be honest he would not ask the question. Having himself surrendered his manhood, and belied every profession in wheeling in for Greeley, he seems to think everybody must be as bad as he is.

ONE OF THE strange things of this canvass is that the New York Tribune has virtually superseded the World as the metropolitan organ of the Democracy. Of course it is natural that the World should lack zeal and enthusiasm in its support of Greeley, and it is also apparent that the Tribune has good reasons for the promotion of its editorial chief; but aside from national politics the Tribune is now as straight-out a Democratic paper as can be found. Horace had a chronic weakness in the way of bolting Republican nominations, but his paper shows the reverence of the genuine Nasby for any thing labelled Democratic. It goes for Buckalew in Pennsylvania, Hendricks in Indian, the Democratic State ticket in Ohio, and is throwing its influence for the election Democratic anti-tariff members of Congress everywhere; it swallows Voorhees even. After the convention it will "pitch in" for the regular nominations of the Tammany ring in New York, and that, too, without the grumble with which it invariably saluted the Republican candidates, if they happened to run counter to the editor's view of the fitness of things. The World merits sympathy in the raid the Tribune has made on its field of labor. It wanders about in as deplorable plight as the bound boy at the husking, and finds ample space for its dissertations on Positivism, the philosophy of Herbert Spencer, and the finer phases of European politics. The Tribune, on the contrary, is all politics, and is democratically as pugnacious as the Irishman at Donnybrook.

THE RIGHT RING.

Many friends of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Hon. Felix R. Brunot, U. S. Commissioner of Indian Affairs, request the publication of the subjoined spirited letter, addressed by him to the Union Republican Club of our sister city. It is a neat and graceful tribute to the worth and excellence of President Grant, and will be all the more appreciated since the idle report had gone out from the opposition that he had deserted the Republican ranks and enlisted under the banner of Greeley. He was during the war most conspicuous for his loyalty and patriotism, and he does not appear to have changed any from them:

PITTSBURGH, June 29, 1872.

Hugh McNeill, Esq., President Union Republican Club of Allegheny.

DEAR SIR: I have received your letter of 24th inst., and as requested, take the earliest opportunity to reply.

It will give me pleasure to identify myself with your organization, but as I expect to leave the city on Tuesday next for the Indian Country, and to be absent for some time, I will not be able to participate in your meetings and active work.

After my return I propose to co-operate earnestly with my fellow citizens in the effort to secure the perpetuation of the principles so well defined in the Philadelphia Republican Platform.

I have the highest regard for Mr. Greeley, and many others of the great writers, statesmen, and soldiers who did so much to save the nation in its days of peril. There are some of them, I have no doubt, capable of filling the Presidential chair with honor to themselves and to the satisfaction of the people, but only one among them all has the opportunity to prove his capacity. Under the administration of President Grant, the honor of the nation has been cared for, its financial pledges have been redeemed, its debt decreased, the burden of taxation diminished, the industry of the people fostered, and a condition of general peace and prosperity exists. Even the enmities of the rebellion are being more rapidly obliterated than could have been anticipated by the most hopeful when his term began. These facts have proven the capacity of the President, and it is reasonable to expect that the experience of the first will render his second term of office even more successful.

I have entire confidence in the personal integrity of the President, and have known him to persist in his convictions of duty against great political pressure and apparent political expediency, and consider it a privilege and a duty to co-operate with you to the best of my ability to secure his re-election.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,
FELIX R. BRUNOT.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

By the consolidation of the South Side boroughs, the number of wards in the city of Pittsburgh—if Councils approve the plan of the Apportionment Committee—will be increased to thirty-six, with seventy-two members in the Select Council and fifty in the Common, or a total in both branches of one hundred and twenty-two. That is for the balance of 1872; next year there will be changes, but the relative numerical force will remain about the same. It will strike any one interested in the city government that the excess of numbers in the Select over the number in the Common Council, revolutionizes the whole theory on which our system of legislation is based. The Common Council, chosen every year, should be the most numerous body. The Select Council is supposed to be the conservative branch, is chosen for two years, and represents territory or municipal divisions, rather than population. The benefits of a full representation of the people inhere to the Common Council, while the Select, with a smaller representation, elected for a longer period, if it has any special mission in reality, should be a sort of municipal safety-valve, or lock on the wheels of the more popular branch. The general idea of our city legislature is borrowed from the constitution of Congress and the State Legislature into popular and conservative branches—one representing population, and the other territorial divisions.

While we do not regard the present representation in the Common Council as too great, it must be obvious to all that there should be a reduction in the number of the members of the Select branch. Thirty-six members would be ample, and this would give each ward a representative. Even a less number might be better, but as it would involve districting the city into Council districts, it would probably not be as popular as to elect by wards. A scheme of districting the city into Council districts, for the Select branch, and the reduction of the number of members to eighteen or twenty, is favored by some citizens, and we believe merits consideration. It would probably secure the choice of our best citizens as members, and would mitigate to a great extent ward clamor in one branch of the Councils, and secure in its stead a policy that would take a more comprehensive view of the general interests of the whole city.

The subject is one that merits consideration to the end that the necessary legislative authority may be obtained next winter at Harrisburg to reduce the number of members of the Select Council.

WHISTLING UP COURAGE.

Our Republican friends are cautioned against believing the many stories set afloat by the opposition to the effect that certain members of our party are about to desert it to award their support to Mr. Greeley. In putting forth such falsehoods the Democracy play a game as bold as it is dishonorable, and they are welcome to all the political capital which they may derive from it. Their hope is to encourage some into an enlistment into their ranks by flattery, and through the influence of those to draw weaker partisans to their support. Before many days shall have elapsed it will be known what sort of men, and who they are, who will desert the Republicans in order to find opportunity to support the mongrel ticket. We honestly believe that not a hundred of members of our party will be found on that side when the roll is called and the lines are marked out. Only yesterday a prominent Democrat, who should have a higher regard for his word, exultingly proclaimed the apostacy from the Grant faith to that of Greeley of a well-known Republican, whose back-sliding might be deemed of some importance. We made it our business to interview the alleged deserter, and he denounced the insinuation, in the words of the old philosopher, as a "villainous lie," and proclaimed, in an enthusiastic manner, his loyalty and devotion to the party of progress and the ticket of Grant and Wilson, which he never thought of deserting. Nor did he ever furnish any ground for such report, except to remark to a Democrat that Greeley might be as good a man as Grant"—which he might be in some things, but not as President of these United States. So much for the truth regarding one reported convert. Verily, the opposition must be destitute of political food, when they feed on such thin diet. The truth is, they are both alarmed and disappointed. When they took passage in the Greeley boat they confidently expected that hundreds of Republicans would embark in the same vessel, but were not right in their anticipations. They, in November, will sing:

The boat had left the stormy land,
A stormy sea before her,
When, oh! too bad for Greeley's band
The tempest gathered o'er her.

Now, as to the Democrats not taking any stock in the nomination of Greeley. They number hundreds everywhere. Even in this community where they have so faithfully stood by the late defunct Democratic party through thick and thin, they are counted by scores. It was our intention to spread before our readers this morning a list of many such, who either accept Grant as a leader or will not vote at all. On consideration, however, we refrain from doing so, inasmuch as most are business men who would not relish the posting of their names and political preference before the public. Then, again, were such a list furnished the enemy, they would make some use of it in order to whip back the recalcitrant members into the ranks they have deserted. The Post may publish its doubtful lists of deserting Republicans to its heart's content, but still not succeed in making the people believe that there are not two Democrats who will vote for Grant to one Republican who will vote for Greeley. November next will develop the fact most emphatically.

LEGISLATIVE DECORUM.

The American Congress in Europe is very generally held to be the most turbulent body entrusted with the legislative business of any nation in Christendom. It is occasionally, no doubt, the scene of disgraceful rowdyism, but not so much now as in other times when slavery discussions agitated the most earnest and malignant feelings. We have once or twice during a session the lie passed between honorable members of the House, and a great excitement follows, but it is soon repressed by the Speaker, and business goes on, in a hurly-burly manner it is true, but still it goes on; the rights of minorities are respected, and discussion is as untrammeled and courteous as possible in an assemblage of three hundred persons, all of whom are warm partizans. Our Senate is a respectable and well-behaved body at all times, and if it has a fault, it lies in an excess of dignity leading to long and prosy speeches. Its customs and rules permit the full discussion of public measures and insure for the most feeble minority and dullest Senator a fair hearing.

The American Congress in the dignity and good order of its deliberations compares very favorably with the British House of Commons or the French National Assembly. We have never known an attempt, even in the most critical period of the war, to suppress fair discussion in Congress, or silence an obnoxious speaker by clamor. Yet such demonstrations are by no means uncommon in Parliament and the French Assembly, the latter particularly. When Sir Charles Wentworth Dilke and his friends made their Republican speeches in the Commons a few months ago, exposing the cost of maintaining royalty the great mass of the members contemptuously left their seats, while those that remained silenced the speakers by yells, hoots, screeches, cat-calls, etc. There was a common purpose to deny the minority, and a very feeble minority it is, a hearing. We have no record of any exhibition of that sort in Congress.

As to the French Assembly its proceedings occasionally go ahead of any deliberative body in the world in scenes of disorder and intimidation. We have an illustration in point in a historic debate that took place in the Assembly on the first of this month, on the bill revising the tax system so as to increase the revenue. It was characterized by the most frenzied excitement, and created a great deal of alarm in Paris. Some of M. Thiers' estimates were questioned, and he vindicated them amid much disorder. M. Rouher, the Napoleonic leader, refused to accept the figures of the President, the latter replied, and this scene ensued:

M. Thiers continuing—Really had I been the ruin of my country I could not oftener be interrupted.

M. Galloni d'Istria (M. Rouher's right-hand man)—Who ruined our country? 'Tis your policy which has ruined it. (Angry exclamations and murmurs.)

M. Thiers—Who ruined our country? 'Twas not I; I did not ruin it! There are people here (pointing to M. Rouher) who can answer your qestion. (Intense excitement. Thunders of applause.)

M. Ganoni d'Istria—'Tis your policy since 1860! (Angry exclamations.)

M. Thiers—My policy? No, 'tis yours. ("Good, good!" Thunders of applause.)

Marquis de Franclieu (the author of the recent letter to Duke d'Aumale about the flag)—Avenge the wrongs the Empire put on us! 'Tis the Empire which delivered us over to the Prussians and to free trade. (Long and intense excitement.)

M. Thiers—At all epochs all nations, and the French nation in particular, have had the liberty to tax raw materials introduced into their frontiers. It is a natural right which belongs to all nations. It has been compromised. It has not been lost; it has been compromised. The proof is that we are obliged to negotiate now, whereas heretofore we had the absolute right to levy it. This is a grievous burden; but had we absolutely lost this right—do you dream what an accusation you bring against yourself by advancing that assertion? ("Good! good!" Bravos and applause on the Left.) Very fortunately, you boast here of having done our country more harm than you have in reality done it. (Thunders of applause on the Left.)

M. Rouher then attempted to get the floor to reply to the President, but he was met with great uproar and exclamations. He finally succeeded in speaking a few words, in which he referred to his services as Napoleon's minister in negotiating the commercial treaty in 1860. Then this occurred:

M. Rouher—I declare that I believe that I should still do service to my country should I succeed in showing to the Assembly—(The most vehement protestation on the Left and in some other parts of the Assembly against such language.)

Many different Voices—What! Your "services" again! 'Tis absolutely intolerable! "Services!" Your "services!" What service have you ever done France?

M. Taberlet—France is dying of your services.

M. Berlet—Your services! France has lost Alsace and Lorraine—these are your services.

M. Malartre, addressing M. Rouher—Go on; the good of the country is the monopoly of no party.

M. Cazot—Proscribers ought to have the modesty of silence in the presence of the proscribed.

The scene which now occurred baffles language to describe. The whole Left was on its legs, some brandishing their arms in the air, others, a legion, shaking their fists at M. Rouher, all bent forward in a frenzy, these shrieking insolent epithets, those yelling imprecations, others bawling protestations. M. Tolair went furious to the Right; two Deputies of the Right seized him by the collar, and now jerking, then hustling him, pushed him back to his seat. This personal remonstrance sobered him for the rest of the sitting. The scene brought one line to memory, "Hell is empty and all the devils are here," for only devils, or the tenants of bedlam could imitate such a pandemonium lashed to frenzy. M. Rouher, standing in the tribune, extremely pale, but extremly resolute. M. Thiers blanched, furrowed with wrinkles, wriggling on his seat mad with excitement.

Mr. Rouher—I said, gentlemen—(Renewed uproar.)

M. de Pressensi (the Protestant clergymen)—Come, let us hear about those "services" of yours!

Many Voices—The order of the day! the new treaty! We move the reaty be read!

President of the Assembly—Gentlemen, M. Rouher has the floor.

M. Jules Favre—He has no right to speak of the services he has done our country.

M. Gavini—Pray tell us your services to France, M. Jules Favre!

M. Galloni d'Istrai—Have liberty of debate respected, Mr. President. (Vehement exclamations on the Left.) Give M. Jules Favre the floor and he will be better heard. (Immense confusion.)

President of the Assembly—I beg of you, gentlemen, a little calm and impartiality. (Protestations on some benches of the Left.)

Right and Centre—Order! Order! Call the interrupters to order!

The President of the Assembly here appealed for a hearing for M. Rouher, who managed despite incessant interruptions to lay his reply clearly before the Assembly. But all this was the prelude to a still more extraordinary scene, when the Foreign Minister laid before the Assembly the new treaty with Germany which has been received with general disappointment in France because it secures no substantial advantage, notwithstanding it was trumpeted as a great diplomatic triumph by the government. Here is what followed in the As embly when M. Rouher had concluded his speech:

M. de Remusat (Minister of Foreign Affairs)—Gentlemen, we have the honor to present to the National Assembly and to submit to its approbation the convention which the President of the Republic has concluded with the Government of His Majesty the Emperor of Germany.

M. Laurent Pichat (in a loud, clear, ringing voice)—Listen, Monsier Rouher! (Good, good! Thunders of applause on the Left! protestations on some benches of the Right. M. Rouher's face was flushed with blood, his eyes flashed fire, he evidently was furious.)

M. de Rumusat (continuing)—To provide the terms and conditions of the payment by France of the money still due and of the evacuation of its territory by the Geman soldiers.

M. Prax Paris (in a loud, clear, ringing voice)—Listen, Monsieur Jules Favre! (Ah! ah! Laughter and applause on Right and Centre; protestations and murmurs on Left.)

M. Billy—Those who applaud forget there are representatives from Alsace and Lorraine here present.

M. Depeyre—Empire and republic, listen both of you!

M. Herve de Saisy—Listen to the voice of France! 'Tis the only voice to which you should hearken! (Great excitement and general uproar.)

M. Jules Favre rose and said something, which was drowned in the tumult.

A Deputy—France ought never to forget the principal author of its misfortunes.

Marquis de Grammont—Who was the cause of the treaty! The Bonapartists—nobody else.

The President again interfered, and after repeated efforts at last succeeded in obtaining silence, in which the Minister of Foreign Affairs continued his remarks. So ended one of the most discreditable scenes ever witnessed in a French Assembly.

We quote these extracts aside from their intrinsic interest, that our readers may see that their national representatives compare favorably in the dignity and courtesy of their deliberations with either the French Assembly or the House of Commons. Congress has had a bad name long enough, and not wholly undeserved. The practice of long and tiresome speeches on political questions, wholly outside of pending legislative business, is a most pernicious one, and we hope to see it abolished with the Congressional Globe and the franking privilege. Yet, with all its faults and absurdities, there is freedom of debate in Congress and the rights of minorities are fully conceded. This can hardly be said to be the the case either in Parliament or the French Assembly, when the power of a majority to howl and hoot down a minority is constantly asserted.

POLITICAL NOTES.

A "CALL" has been issued for a Republican State Convention in New York, at Utica, on the 21st of August. New York will elect a Governor next fall, and the contest is likely to be exciting. George Wm. Curtis is spoken of as the Republican candidate, and either Hoffman, Church, or Kernan as the Democratic.

THE Chattanooga (Tenn.) Herald publishes the following extract from a private letter, written by an eminent ex-Confederate General of Virginia to the editor of that journal:

"I have felt and do feel great satisfaction that my course is approved by such as you. Each day makes me more zealous in Gen. Grant's behalf. Gross injustice is done him by a number of the old Confederates; not so much by those who fought, but by those whose occupation it was during the war, as it is now, to abuse Yankees, while at a safe distance from them. Reflecting that but for his magnanimity scores of our bravest and best men might and probably would have been executed and a gulf have thereby been dug 'twixt North and South, so wide and deep that ages could not have filled it up, I do not see or understand why he is not ardently supported by most of the true and brave men in the South."

RECRUITS for Greeley, of malcontents and doubtful persons from the Republican ranks, are by no means numerous in the Eastern States. The information from that section is summed up by the Boston Advertiser as follows:

"The truth is that the Republican nominations are accepted and sustained throughout New England with unanimity scarcely paralleled in times of political excitement. The first State election takes place in Maine early in September, and the first interest naturally centres there. The State is quoted 'doubtful' in the Greeley lists. Vermont and Massachusetts are not more certain to remain Republican than Maine is. New Hampshire and Connecticut are already quoted as surrendered. The most intelligent Republicans in those States assure us that they will hold their own, and that there is no sign of defection in either State sufficient to give them a moment's alarm. There is no Greeleyism in Rhode Island outside of the Democratic minority."

THAT mysterious sickness of Gratz Brown is still the subject of anxious solicitude on the part of the Greeley organs, which kindly furnish the public with daily bulletins of the condition of the patient. He had so far recovered at the last accounts as to accord an interview to a reporter of the Sun, who informed him that his illness had assumed "a national importance" to which the elegant and accomplished Brown replied: "Yes, I suppose if I had kicked the bucket it would have been quite an item." The public will be glad to learn that Brown hopes to derive benefit from his sickness by learning to "take better care of himself in the future."

THE letter of Mr. DePauw, of New Albany, who was placed on the Greeley ticket in Indiana to secure a certain denominational influence, has been published peremptorily declining the doubtful honor. It concludes as follows:

With the very highest regards and best wishes for the thousands of Republicans and hosts of Democrats who have desired to confer this honor upon me, and with an earnest hope that Senator Hendricks may be elected Governor of Indiana in 1872 and President of the United States in 1876, I am respectfully yours,
W. C. DEPAUW.

Not one word about Horace, of Chappaqua!

THE Herald reports an interview by one of its correspondents with General Grant at Long Branch last week. It concludes as follows:

Correspondent—Now, tell me, Mr. President, did Greeley ever make any complaints to you about your office, before he thought proper to be tempted by a prospective nomination, to go back on you?

Grant—No; personally he never uttered a complaint. He first grumbled through his paper, I believe, and then his spokesmen, as they called themselves, came grumbling to me about his not getting more of the patronage of the Government to dispose of. The truth about Greeley is, he has been always surrounding himself with men of disreputable character, and wanting to put them into important offices. I could not provide for all of them, and most of them I could not afford—the country itself could not afford—to in any decent place. I had afterwards to remove, for incompentency, or misconduct of some kind or other, almost every man to whom I gave an appointment on his recommendation. Such persons as Camp and Lamont, and those people. One man (Ferguson) the Senate very properly, I believe, refused to confirm. Mr. Greeley would have filled the Civil Service with all the worthless men in the country if I had let him; but I would not let him. This is the trouble.

Correspondent—That is, according to Mayor Brown, of St. Louis, why Carl Schurz deserted your party, too.

Grant—Mayor Brown is perfectly correct, as far as I know.

THE following is published in the Albany Evening Journal, and is indorsed by the New York Times as true in every particular:

"ON Sunday morning last, much to the surprise and indignation of the congregation, Horace Greeley, accompanied by George N. Sanders and Theodore Tilton, walked into Rev. Dr. Chapin's church, taking seats in Mr. Greeley's pew. It was soon known that the notorious traitor who who was hatching conspiracies in Canada during the whole of the rebellion was Mr. Greeley's guest, and an expression of disgust was manifest in almost every countenance, for in our whole city there is not a congregation more distinguished for its intelligence and loyalty than this one. Nor did the circumstance fail to attract the attention and the rebuke of the eminent and eloquent pastor, whose patriotic heart must have burned with indignation to see a man who had conspired to burn our city and assassinate our President, this openly and shamelessly patronized by a prominent member of his congregation."

A REPORT comes from the West that Mr. Charles A. Eldridge, the Democratic representative in Congress for the Fourth district of Wisconsin, has announced himself unequivocally and unalterably opposed to Greeley, and in favor of Grant "as a choice of evils."

YACHTING.

The Capital Invested in Pleasure Yachts—What it Costs to Enjoy Yachting.

It is estimated by yachtsmen of prominence and experience that the pleasure-yachts of the New York Club alone must have cost nearly $2,000,000, while the fleets of the whole country cost about $5,000,000. The yachts of the Brooklyn Club cost $350,000; Atlantic, $400,000; and all others in New York bay about $500,000. The Eastern Club of Boston harbor is very wealthy, owning yachts valued at $400,000. The best class of these vessels cannot be built and equipped for less than $150 a ton, or about $5,000 for a sloop of 35 tons, the smallest craft which can be constructed with due regard to comfort and convenience in a cruise.—Yacht-builders declare that a roomy cabin, large enough to accommodate the average grown person, cannot be attained in vessels of smaller tonnage. A crew of five men is necessary to such a yacht, and these cost, during the summer cruise of four months, at least $150 a month. It is necessary to employ one of the crew as steward during the whole year, in order that the yacht may be taken care of. The expenses for food are to be added to all this, so that the amusement is dearly bought. But as the yacht at the same original outlay will accommodate say from seven to ten guests, the cost does not compare unfavorable with the expenses at a crowded hotel at the Springs or sea-side, and the accommodations of the yacht are immeasurably superior to those of the hotel in the season.

These figures give only an indistinct idea of the cost of larger yachts. The famous Henrietta was sold, after her triumph in 1866, when quite an old vessel, having seen rough service in the civil war, for $15,000. Her former owner, James Gordon Bennett, Jr., immediately bought the Fleetwing, one of the vessels which he had beaten in the famous dead-of-winter ocean race, for $65,000, and rechristened her the Dauntless. It was this magnificent vessel which was beaten in the ocean race of 1870 by the English-built Cambria, which was sold the same year for $30,000. The Resolute of Mr. A. S. Hatch, the smallest and one of the most elegant of the schooner yachts of the New York Club, being 110 tons burden, cost $30,000—but she was built in war times. The largest schooner yacht in the country, the Sappho of Mr. Douglass, cost much less than this, proportionately. Yachts built in the excellent staunch style of the present endure far many years. They may grow out of fashion, or may be excelled by new models, for the art of yacht-building improves with each year, but they never rot if cared for. The English yacht Pearl, built in 1818 by the Marquis of Anglesea, has outlived her famous master and all his family except one son, Lord Alfred Paget. This young nobleman, inheriting the taste of his father (who, in spite of his great qualities as a cavalryman, was, to use his own expression, "the most thoroughbred yachtsman in England,") has lately abandoned his old love for a new steam yacht, and the Pearl lies rotting in ordinary. There are several very old yachts in the American fleet, the America itself having now attained a generation of years without losing any part of the vigor of youth.—W. F. G. Shanks, in Scribner's for August.

THE CORN CROP.

Prospects of the Yield.

It seems to be generally conceded that the coming August will bring us one of the best corn crops ever known. Reports from the West and Southwest are in the highest degree encouraging, while the eastern portions of the Middle States, and especially the districts centering in Philadelphia, have experienced the best possible conditions of success. The long-continued heat, so annoying to animal nature, just suits the nature of corn, especially when accompanied by the regular showers we have had of late.

Generally the corn crop in the East is not a matter of supreme concern, as it is usually raised so cheaply in the West that it is not regarded as one of the most profitable articles to grow. But this year additional interest attaches to it from the partial failure of the hay crop. The absence of rain and snow during the winter left the earth without its usual spring moisture; and this, followed by a dry spring, injured the growth of the grass materially. In most of the barns within fifty miles of Philadelphia, and from which she draws most of her supplies, there is generally at hay time enough on hand to last nearly a year ahead. But this season the new hay was taken to nearly empty barns. This is probably the condition of things in most of our Eastern locations. Hay will, therefore, be likely to hold its present high price until the crop of 1873 is secured, and corn fodder proportionately increase in value.

There has, indeed, been a steady appreciation in corn fodder for some years. Many years ago it had scarcely any value, but for a long time past it has formed the bulk of food for dry cows. It has been found that when well cured it is equal to hay for horses, and on those farms where there is more grown than the cows can use, it is coming into use as a popular horse feed. It is well understood now by intelligent farmers that there is very little gain in the weight of corn after the first cool night's come; hence the stalks can be cut while tolerably green, thus furnishing excellent fodder and a full crop of corn at the same time. Instead of its being left out in shocks on the field, where the best portions are washed out by the rains, it is now better cared for, and when not actually kept in the best condition in dry seasons, as hay is, at least receives the protection of stacking up in as rain-proof a manner as possible.

This increasing care for corn fodder will receive a new impetus this season from the scarcity of hay, and the very favorable corn season will also tell in its favor.

The welfare of the human race is so intimately bound up with that of our domestic animals that even the man who owns no horse or cow can rejoice at the prospect of a bountiful corn crop.

UNCLE SAM has at last acquired a "dear little isle of his own" away off in the South Sea. It is called "Tutuila;" not a very beautiful name, but 'twill do. Having assumed possession, the next thing in order is to send George Alfred Townsend out there to "write it up." If Walt Whitman can be spared from his clerkship at Washington he might accompany George to prepare a poetical catalogue of the products and resources of the island. A South Sea "yawp" from Walt would be an interesting contribution to the statistics of Polynesia.

TRUSSES.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done.

This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the epxense of the person's life.

Rupture is too serious an injury to be treaed with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured, with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr Keyser always has on hand.

Dr Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

THE WEAR AND TEAR OF LIFE.

The cares, anxieties and misfortunes of life have as much to do with shortening it as disease. They are in fact the source of many ailments and physical disabilities. Nervous weakness, dyspepsia, affections of the liver, disturbances of the bowels, headaches, hypochondria and monomania are among these distressing fruits. It is, therefore, of great importance that persons whose minds are oppressed with heavy business responsibilities, or harassed by family troubles, or excited by speculation, or perplexed by a multiplicity of enterprises, or in any way overtaxed or overworked, should keep up their stamina by the daily use of a wholesome tonic. Thousands of persons thus circumstanced are enabled to bear up against the difficulties in which they are involved, and to retain their strength, health and mental clearness, by the regular use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Diseases which are prone to attack the body when debilitated and broken-down by overmuch brain work or exhausting physical labor, are kept at bay by the resistant power with which this incomparable tonic endows the nervous system and the vital organs. At this season, when the heat is evaporating the elements of strength from every pore, an invigorant is absolutely essential to the safety and comfort of the public, and is required even by the more robust if they desire to keep their athletic capabilities in statu quo. Hence a course of Hostetter's Bitters is particularly useful at this period of the year as a defense against the invisible disease afloat in a sultry atmosphere. It is the most potent of all preventive medicines, and for all complaints which affect the stomach, the liver and the bowels, and interfere with the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, it is the standard remedy.

This company was organized for the purpose of importing and distributing Teas and Coffees for one small profit, and it was started with a capital amply sufficient (half a million dollars) to carry into effect, in a thorough and complete manner, our well matured plans. Added to this large capital, we have many years' experience in importing, buying, testing, and selling Teas to all sections of the country. And, as we have business connections with all the principal ports in China and Japan, thus receiving our goods direct from place of growth, our customers are saved from all intermediate profits.

All our Teas are selected with reference to our trade, and graded to established standards, so that all orders can be duplicated as often as desired, with the certainty that the same flavors and qualities will be sent, and at the lowest prices at which the goods can be imported and sold.

We conduct our business upon the true commercial principles of ONE PRICE—ONE SMALL PROFIT—and buy and sell for CASH ONLY.

We think our Thea-Nectar is the best Tea in the market for general use, and for the quality it certainly is the cheapest. Thea-Nectar is the pure black Tea, with the Green Tea flavor. Wherever it has been introduced it gives the fullest satisfaction.

Our business title we have copyrighted as a Trade Mark, under the laws of the United States, and cannot allow any one to use it or infringe upon it.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 20, 1872.

The charming weather of to-day had a most exhilerating effect on all kinds of out-door operations. The banks, being abundantly supplied with funds, were free lenders, and put everything appertaining to business in a cheerful condition. But few offerings left the banks, and what there was, was readily taken by private bankers. There has been a considerable amount of Pittsburgh paper placed in the east this week, and the fact shadowed forth by this paper some time since that Philadelphia capitalists were looking for investments here, is every day becoming more apparent. With the aid that Philadelphia can, in this shape, afford Pittsburgh, if generously applied, would double this city in the next ten years in wealth, population and influence, and benefit Philadelphia more than it possibly could any other way. That the capitalists of the Quaker City are awakening up to this fact, there can be no doubt, and their reward is as sure to follow as that of one member of a family who help another from the same parentage. The coal, iron and oil of Western Pennsylvania will do more for the city of the Delaware and Schuylkill than all the Atlantic trade she can become possessed of. A visit over the Central Road will fully demonstate this; for great as the througt trade isover this route, the local business is the foundation of profit. The interests of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are identical, and so soon as this is realized by the people of both cities, so soon will the influence possessed by them throughout the country be doubled.

The coal men have been very successful in their coal business. The amount shipped on this rise so far is up to 9,000,000 bushels, the return for which, in the shape of greenbacks and New York exchange, will be gratifying to many persons.

Gold still continues wavering between 114 and 115. The European steamers, on Wednesday, took out $2,740,000 in specie. An English paper, of July 5th, says: "Gold has been in good demand the last two days, and, for Germany, the sum of £493,000 was withdrawn from the bank. Further amounts will be sent away, but the imports from America and elsewhere are expected to be very large. About £103,000 have been sent into the bank during the week, about £112,500 have been received from New York, £19,580 from Alexandria, and £5,500 from Africa. Silver is in better demand from the Continent, and the price has been improved to 60⅛ per oz. standard."

For local stocks there is considerable demand, without any sellers. In other matters there is no change worthy of note.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 20, 1872.

ASHES—Quiet and unchanged.

APPES—Coming in freely, and we now quote at $2 to $3 per bbl for common to medium, and $3,50 to $4 for prime to choice.

BUTTER—There is considerable inquiry for strictly prime, and it is selling readily at 18 to 20. Common and medium is in fair supply and dull.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and unchanged; in the absence of sales we continue to quote at 5 to 8 cents per lb.

BEANS—Small sales at $2,50 to $3 per bushel.

CHEESE—We are reported a steady demand at unchanged prices; 10 to 10½ for prime Dairy; 11 to 11½ for Factory, and 12 to 12½ for Goshen.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,50 per case.

CARBON OIL—The jobbing trade continues very light, and prices are nominally unchanged.

CEMENT—Rosendale, $4,25@4,50 per bbl; Louisville, $2,25@2,75; Akron, $2,50@2,75; Calcined Plaster, $4,50; Land Plaster, $2,75@3,00; Cleveland and Perrysburg Lime, $1,75@2,00.

COUNTRY BACON—Continues very quiet, and the stock is almost exhausted. Country Lard is in steady demand, with sales at 8 to 8½.

EGGS—The receipts during the past day or two have been rather large, and the market is weak, though prices are without quotable change; 16 may still be regarded as the ruling quotation.

FLOUR—There is a steady demand and we can report a fair volume of business in the aggregate, but there is no change in prices; if anything, the feeling is not as strong as it was early in the week, as the weather cleared off again, and to-day is very favorable for harvesting. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $7,50 to $8,25 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $8,50 to $9 for fair to choice red winter. Rye flour, $5,50.

GRAIN—There has been considerable inquiry for small lots of Wheat from country millers, and, with a very limited supply, prices are higher; red winter may be quoted at $1,75 to $1,80. However, no considerable amount could be disposed of at these quotations, as city millers are unwilling to go above $1,60@1,65, which is high enough when the price of flour is taken into consideration. Oats continue steady, with a fair demand, and we can report sales at 40 to 42 for good mixed to prime white. Corn is quiet and unchanged, 58 to 60 for either ear or shelled. The arrivals recently have been comparatively light but the supply is fully up to the demand, which, as a rule, is confined mainly to supplying immediate requirements. Rye is quiet and, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at 75 to 80 cts. No movement in Barley.

GROCERIES—Coffee is quiet and, if anything, a little weakish, and while there is no quotable change, operaters are getting apprehensive in regard to the future. Refined Sugars were quoted up an ⅛ to ¼ on Friday, in the east, but to-day they were down again; several attempts have been made recently to bull the market, but without success. Molasses, Syrups, etc., etc., quiet and unchanged.

REFINED SUGARS.—Crushed, 13½; granulated, 13; powdered, 13¾; A, 12; B, 11¾; Ex C, 11¾; C, 11½; Circle C, 11⅜; Chesapeake, Ex C, 11¼; Lovering, 11¼; Knights C yellow, 10½.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 20, 1872.

The market this week has ruled steady all week and closes strong with indications of a still further appreciation in value. Crude, at Parker, was quoted this afternoon at $3,70 to $3,72½ per bbl the highest point it has touched for some time; we understand that there was a sale under the hammer, early in the day, at $3,67½. Refined also firmer but not quotably higher; sales of 4,000 bbls last half August at 22⅜; and 2000 1st half at 22¼; July or spot nominal at 22@22¼; September, 22¾@22⅞; the inquiry at present seems to be centered mainly on August.

Oil Barrels continue weak, but prices are without quotable change; city barrels may be quoted at $1,75 to $1,80 according to delivery; country $1,70.

Receipts crude this week, 27,570: last week, 40,088; January is to date, 609,800: sametime last year, 595,527. Exports refined this week 16,168; last week, 19,939; January 1st to date 383,493; sometime last year, 341,320.

CATTLE.

Trade has been fairly active all week, and the market closes with a better feeling than has characterized it for some time past; there are several good and satisfactory reason for this, the most of which are, 1st, a diminished supply; 2d, more favorable advices from the east; 3d, the change in the weather, and 4th, there were but very few left over. The diminished receipts was not without its effect, as it stimulated the market, causing buyers to take hold with less hesitancy, and the advices from both Philadelphia and New York being more encouraging, gave dealers more backbone, and, in consequence, the great proportion of the offerings changed hands at about last week's quotations. The quality of the cattle was also better than it has been for some time, and while the supply of prime was not much, if any, larger than usual, the number of common green slippery cattle was comparatively light; the last mentioned grade of cattle are not wanted, and we are requested by dealers to advise farmers to keep them at home, as there are no buyers except at ruinously low price prices—less, perhaps, than they cost at home.

Prime to extra 1400 to 1500 steers may be quoted at 6½ to 6¾, though, so far as we could learn, there were no sales rising above the inside quotation; however, extra 1450 to 1500 steers fat and smooth would have brought 6⅞; medium to good, 1200 to 1300, 5½ to 6; and fair, 1000 to 1100 at 4½ to 5.

HOGS.

Trade opened quite tame this morning, as buyers seemed to think that prices were too much inflated, and it being Saturday, owners were not disposed to hold over Sunday; hence the tameness above noted. In regard to the future of the market it is difficult to give even an intelligent conjecture, as the situation at the present time, is a very peculiar one. The most important feature we have to notice is the fact that there has been an active demand for shipment to Baltimore, at prices ranging from 4½ to 4¾; while for Philadelphia hogs prices have still further advanced, and we now quote at 5 to 5¼, an advance of ⅜ to ¾ of a cent per pound within the past week. In York hogs however the operations have been unusually light, in consequence of an injunction having been issued against the Comunipaw (New York) yards by the Board of Health, on a charge of being a nuisance, which, of course, was not without its effect in flattening out trade in this particular grade of hogs; there were some few sales, and quotations may be given at $4,10 to $4,50 according to quality. The arrivals, as will be seen, were unusually light, and this was the main cause of the advance; and if the arrivals should be at all large next week, a reaction is probable.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The arrivals were larger than for some time past, but with an improved demand, trade was quite active and prices as compared with last week, may be quoted ¼ higher; there was a good demand for prime to extra all week for shipment to New York, and all the different grades were more active, and that, too, as above noted, at an advance. Prime 85 to 90 lbs, $5,40 to $5,65; extra 95 to 100 lbs quick at $5,75 to $6; and the offerings of this kind are very small; good 75 to 80 lbs, $4,85 to $5,10. Lambs were in demand and sold readily at 6 to 6½ for good 50 to 60 lbs. Coarse wool stock ewes in demand at $2,50 to $3 per head.

Henry Erisman bought during the week nine different lots of coarse wool Indianas at from $2,50 per head up to 5¼ cts per lb; 15 bunches of fine wool at from $4,90 up to $5,60; and 4 lots of lambs at 6 to 6½ cents.

Wool.

The Detroit Tribune says: In Jackson, during the past week, 55,000 pounds of wool were bought, the prices ranging from 50@55, and a few small loads brought ½c more per pound. Along the line of the Michigan Central, wool comes in slow in most of the wool-buying towns. At Grass Lake the buyers have taken 75,000 pounds, and are now paying 54@56c. At Chelsea 45,000 pounds have been taken; now paying 55@58c. In most of the towns the price offered is 50@55c. In the North it is as follows: In Greenville, Montcalm County, 25,000 pounds have been bought. In Ionia, 300,000 pounds have been purchased this year, the price ruling at 60c, but 55c are now the figures. At Mount Clements, 60,000 pounds is the amount bought, and the last price was 58c. In Ovid, 33,000 pounds were purchased, the average price being 58c. In Portland, 55c is the outside figure. In Lansing, 56,000 pounds were sold, 60c being given for the best. Iron Markets.

NEW YORK.—Scotch Pig Iron has been held above the views of buyers, and has been inactive, with Glendarnock quoted at $50@$52; sales 600 tons in lots, on private terms. No. 1 American Pig Iron has been very scarce, and quoted up to $55, from the hands of dealers, with sales reported of 200 tons in lots, at irregular prices. Iron Bars and Rails have been firm, but quiet.

BALTIMORE.—There is but little doing in Pig Iron at this season, but we note a strong feeling in the market, and prices of American are firm, and we quote as follows: For Anthracite—No. 1 $50, No. 2 $49, and No. 3 $48. Charcoal Forge at $55@60 per ton. The receipts of Scotch have been free and the market is dull. We continue to quote Gartsherrie at $55, and Eglinton $52@53, ex ship, but understand some sales have been made at a concession. A portion of the receipts is being stored.

PHILADELPHIA.—Pig Iron is firmly held. Sales of No. 1 at $53; No. 2 at $51@52; Grey Forge at $48; Scotch Pig at $47@48, and mottled at $43@44 ℔ ton. Old rails sell for shipment at $51 ℔ ton, and nails at $5 65 ℔ keg.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with six feet eight inches in the channel last evening. Very heavy rains last evening, with every indication of continuation, and another rise is not improbable.

The Granite State, from Portsmouth, is the only arrival we have to report. The Bellevernon is the next boat due. She may be expected in to-night.

There were quite a number of coal barges and boats sunk at Merriman and the "trap" and the channel is somewhat obstructed in consequence. It is estimated that the loss will reach close on to 250,000 bushels, though, of course, a good deal of this can be recovered when the water recedes.

The Messenger is still laid up, and it is not likely that she will make any effort to go out on this water. Business continues very dull at the landing; freight for all points scarce.

—The Louisville Courier says: Messrs. Sheehan & Soler, contractors on the canal improvement, are raidly preparing for their work. They have a number of men egaged in the quarries, and will commence delivering stone on the banks of the canal to-day. They will begin on the walls during the first of the coming week, and push the work through as fast as is consistent with making a good job of it. They will begin on the upper end of their contract. They have already made contracts for the timber for the coffer-dam they have to build.

—We found the following pharagraph, says the Cincinati Gazette, in a St. Louis paper: Mr. Joseph Whitten, a pilot of the Cincinnati packet Exchange, is now engaged in collecting money from steamboatmen to build a church for all of the Protestant pursuasion, at Whitten's Towhead, Long Reach, the Whitten boys following the river to furnish the bill. The boats are subscribing liberally. The Carrie Brooks and crew subscribed thirty dollars.

—The Peoples' Towboat Line of St. Louis has been incorporated, with a capital of $20,000, and the privilege of increasing to $100,000. Directors—W. F. Davidson, Abe McPike, John Shetbar, R. M. Roberts and P. S. Davidson.

—The following were the stockholders of the steamer Idlewild, viz: Captains Gus Fowler and Joe Fowler, Charles Carroll, Semonin & Dixon, Mat. Henning, Ragon & Dickey, Gus Lemoke, Gus De'Souchet and Hodge & Co.

—The snagboats DeRussey and S. H. Long are at St. Louis, preparing for a summer campaign. They will work out the $90,000 appropriation allotted for the main river between Alton and New Orleans, and will then quit until more money is furnished.

—The St. Louis Republican, of Thursday, says: The Mary Davage, finding more money in running than lying up, concluded to take a cargo of ore around to the Ohio, and is now loading barges with 700 tons for Ashland and Cincinnati.

—The Warner, with three empty barges in tow, descended the falls late Friday evening, bound for St. Louis. She is the first boat that has descended the falls on the present rise.

—It is rumored that an attachment has been issued against the property of Elliott & Miller, steamboat owners at Memphis, they being one party upon the bond of the defaulting tax collector, McLean.

—The Bellevernon got 125 tons from the Mollie Ebert, which boat is laid up at Cincinnati. Joseph Alexander and Wm. Devers are her pilots.

—The Exchange was to have left Cincinnati on Saturday for this port, and she was to be followed on Sunday by the Juniata.

—Captain A. D. Wolfe is preparing the A. J. Abert to commence a cruise up the Ohio river, from Cairo to Evansville, to clear the snags and other obstructions from the channel.

—"Open warfare" has been proclaimed among the Cumberland river fleet of boats, heretofore under the management of Superintendent Dix.

—The Northwestern Union Packet Company have sold the Alex. Mitchell to the Northwestern Steamvoat Company for $13,000.

—The Bellevernon left Cincinnati for this port on Friday, and the Exchange arrived there the same day.

—Wabash river is rising.

HOME NEWS.

Persons leaving the city for the country, during the summer months, can have the GAZETTE by mail, at special rates, by leaving their names at our counting room.

Fatal "Horseback" Accident.

About noon on Saturday a man named John Harris was instantly killed while working in the Brownston pit, owned by the proprietors of the American Iron Works. The deceased was digging coal when a horseback gave way and fell upon him, crushing him into an almost shapeless mass. The remains were removed to his late residence and information of his death sent to the coroner.

Robbing the Government.

United States District Attorney Swoope has received instructions to enter suit against David Hays, late postmaster at Tionesta, Pa., for embezzlement. The money order account of Hays is $100.35 short, and he has been requested to settle but has refused to do so. Proceedings will be instituted against his official bond to recover the amount due the government, and a criminal suit will be also entered against him for embezzlement.

Another Suit.

On Friday evening Mr. E. A. Lappe, of Allegheny, appeared before Alderman McMasters and made an information, charging Messrs. John W. Pittock, John I. Nevin, Robert P. Nevin and E. H. Nevin, proprietors of the Evening Leader, with libel. The plaintiff is the gentleman who it was alleged by that paper had eloped with Miss Atkinson. The young lady, it will be remembered, has already commenced a suit and Mr. Lappe's information is in the same form as Miss A's. The accused gave bail for court in $2,000 each.

Bold Robbery.

On Friday night another bold robbery was committed in the vicinity of the Union Depot by two of a gang of thieves who seem to be operating with great success in our midst. A stranger in this city, who had been indulging in intoxicating liquors, fell asleep on the steps of the Rush House and was observed by the two thieves, who watched their opportunity and relieved the sleeper of his watch and chain. They then decamped but were followed by two gentlemen who had witnessed the transaction. When near the metal yards the thieves were overtaken and the return of the property was demanded, under pain of the police being called. The men thought it best to disgorge and the property was returned to the rightful owner.

Arrested in Kansas.

Information was received on Saturday at the Allegheny Mayor's office, that Samuel Teets, a fugitive from justice, had been arrested at Wachita, Kansas. Teets has been an object of interest for several months past. Several indictments for barraty, perjury, blackmailing, etc., were found against him at a recent term of the Criminal Court, and he was placed under bail to appear for trial. Some weeks before the term opened he disappeared, and when the cases were called his bail was forfeited. Chief Clark left for Kansas in the afternoon, armed with the necessary papers to bring the prisoner where justice awaits him.

Teets is the husband of Mrs. Teets, the woman in whose house Hadfield was killed by "Bruiser" Lynch.

The New Stock Yards.

It appears that some difficulties still surround the purchase of the tract of land near Wall's Station, which the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have been negotiating for, with a view to removing the stock yards to that point. The fact that the Company were contemplating the purchase was noted in the GAZETTE some weeks since. It appears satisfactory arrangements cannot be made with Mr. John McGinnis, who owns the farm lying between the two tracks of land purchased by them, as to the price. On Saturday morning Messrs. Hampton and Dalzell, Solicitors, filed a petition in Court asking for the appointment of viewers to assess the value of the property. The petition was filed and the argument on the motion will be heard on the 27th inst.

The French Band.

A meeting of the Reception Committee appointed to arrange for the welcome of the French Band, on Wednesday next, was held on Saturday night at the office of Joseph M. Gazzam, Esq.

It was announced that the A. P. Callow and McClure township bands would in all probability participate in the reception.

The conduct of the Great Western Band in volunteering its services was spoken of and highly praised.

A committee was appointed to proceed west and meet the band at some convenient point, and return to the city with its members.

The committee then adjourned to meet at the same place at 2:30 P. M. to-day, when all interested in welcoming the distinguished strangers are invited to be present.

Fatal Accident.

On Friday night an empty passenger car had been left standing on the siding at Sewickley, and the Leetsdale Accommodation train arriving there at about six o'clock, was to couple it on and take it to Leetsdale. John Miller, brakeman on the Leetsdale train, on its arrival ran back to the empty car to make preparations for coupling it on. While he was stooping, adjusting the link, the train was prematurely backed, and he was caught and dreadfully injured by the "bumpers." He was taken up immediately and carried into the room of a family living in the depot building, and every kindness was shown him by the members of the family and by Mr. Warren, the ticket agent. Drs. Murray and Dickson were summoned, and found that the unfortunate man was greatly injured internally. He lingered in great agony till Saturday evening when he died. Acting Coroner Butler held an inquest, and a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered.

National Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention.

A meeting of the Executive Committee appointed to make arrangements for the National Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention was held on Saturday afternoon.

A letter was read from Gen. Burnside stating that communications were being received from Commanderies of the Grand Army of the Republic, stating their intention to be present, and predicting that the Convention would be one of the largest of the kind ever held.

Reports from soldiers and sailors' organizations from all parts of the Union were received, stating their intention to be present and asking for provisions for accommodation.

The Secretary was instructed to answer these communications, assuring the writers of plenty of accommodation.

The Committee on Place of Meeting announced that City Hall had been engaged for the 17th, 18th and 19th of September.

After the transaction of some routine business the meeting adjourned.

An Exciting Chase.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon Officer Atkinson, while walking along Federal street, observed a colored man, in his bare-feet, very stealthy sneak into the office of Dr. James Herron. The officer's suspicions were aroused, and he waited for the man's exit. Before long he came out and sauntered up Federal street. The officer quietly followed, unobserved, as far as Semple's dry goods palace. At this point the colored man saw that he was being watched and took to his heels. The officer started in pursuit, crying "stop thief!" The greatest excitement ensued, and some three hundred citizens joined with the officer in the pursuit. The chase was a long and exciting one, and the darkey evidenced unusual swiftness of foot. He was not overtaken until he had reached Pleasant Valley, when he completely succumbed and was consequently captured. The officer took him to the lock-up, and on being searched $42 was found on his person. He stated that he had just arrived from Vincennes, Indiana. He was locked up for a hearing as a suspicious person, and a telegram dispatched to Vincennes to ascertain whether he is known in that place.

A Journalist Drowned.

The death by drowning of Mr. Harry Bowman, for a long time engaged in the Pittsburgh Leader is reported in the Philadelphia Ledger of Saturday. It says: Mr. Harry Bowman and three friends went boating on the Delaware, and when they had reached a point above Tacony, the boat was capsized and all were thrown into the river. Mr. Bowman failed to reach the boat, and was drowned. The other young men were rescued. Bowman was a reporter on the Northern Zone, a Sunday paper started in this city a short time since. He was also recently connected with the newspaper known as the North Philadelphia Monitor. The body of the deceased was not recovered when the information of the accident was sent. Mr. Bowman was recently engaged in a law suit with the Rev. J. C. Butler, the former having been charged with disturbing a congregation in Kensington, where Mr. Bowman resided. He was, however, acquitted of the charge, and subsequently caused the arrest of Mr. Butler on the charge of perjury. The case was to have been heard last Saturday in the Court of Quarter Sessions on habeas corpus, but Mr. Bowman failed to appear, and the matter was dismissed.

ACCIDENTS TO THE COAL FLEET.

Heavy Losses—List of the Losers—Upwards of Fifty Thousand Dollars Lost.

A series of disasters happened to the coal fleet which left this city on Friday's rise, which will foot up an aggregate loss of not less than $50,000. The accidents all occurred below the head of the Upper Monongahala bar and the "Trap." The first occurred in the morning to a tow owned by N. J. Bigley, of which two boats were sunk. These packages contained 44,000 bushels, and were lost at the head of Merriman. During the day the following additional disasters occurred. Two boats belonging to J. Dippold were sunk and one run aground. They contained 66,000 bushels. Roger S. Wallace lost one boat containing 22,000 bushels; R. & J. Watson had six barges, containing 60,000 bushels, sunk. James Doyle of McKee's port lost one floating boat ladened with 8,000 bushels of nut coal, and another belonging to him was stuck on the bar. William H. Brown lost a fuel boat, with 8,000 bushels. A barge belonging to J. Sharp McDonald, and containing 12,000 bushels, sunk nearly opposite Mr. McDonald's residence at Sewickley. Three or four other packages are reported to have been lost, but we could not learn the names of the owners. The accidents reported make a total of about 266,000 bushels of coal, which, together with the cost of the packages, would make the aggregate loss the sum we have given. The channel of the river is almost entirely obstructed by the sunken boats, and the passage is a most difficult and hazardous operation, even with but two or three barges in tow.

THE NEW WATER WORKS.

Comparison Between the Bids.

As stated on Saturday morning the bids for the new reservoirs for the water works varied considerably and C. Howard & Son, being the lowest bidders, were awarded the contracts. The estimates on the Brilliant Hill and Hiland evenue reservoirs was as follows:

	Hiland avenue.	Brilliant Hill.
Addis	$272,925	$375,862
Henderson	423,242	636,747
Collins	225,604	318,204
Messech, Forrester & Co.	395,756	544,449
McIlhany & Ray	213,976	303,166
Forrester M'Graw & Co.	216,138	386,288
Gimmer & Rhodes	219,324	304,874
C. Howard & Son	213,211	295,509

From these figures it will be seen that there is a difference between the highest and lowest bids of $210,031 on the Hiland avenue reservoir and $341,238 on the Brilliant Hill works. Between the lowest and next lowest there is only a difference of $765 on the first and $7,657 on the latter named works. It will be remembered that the contract was given to C. Howard & Son the lowest bidder. The next lowest bid was that of McElhany & Ray, and the highest that of Henderson & Co.

All you want in the clothing line will be supplied at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street. These goods are not of a shoddy character, nor old stock, but will bear comparison and lose nothing alongside the best goods manufactured anywhere, while they are sold at marvellously cheap rates. Look at the stock and be convinced.

Notwithstanding the fact that Liebler, the "Trunk King," is in New York on a purchasing visit, still the business of his establishment No. 104 Wood street continues as lively as ever. Judging from the large number of trunks he sells we imagine that the tide of travel will be great this season.

THE HEAVY RAINS.

Serious Damage Consequent—The effects in this Neighborhood.

The heavy rains of yesterday did considerable damage in this city, Allegheny, and the South Side. Very many residences and stores which were more or less flooded have made no reports to the authorities, but the following particulars will prove how general the damage must have been:

IN THE CITY.

On the Fourth of July, the cellar of Mr. Richard Moon, who keeps a liquor store on Boyd street, was flooded by the breaking of a sewer, during the heavy rain which fell on the afternoon of that day. The proper authorities were applied to, and it was supposed the break had been stopped. At the time of the first break Mr. Moon had at least one hundred dollars worth of liquors soiled. Yesterday afternoon, while the rain was at its heaviest, it became evident that the sewer was useless, and the water from the hill again drained into his cellar, this time doing damage to the amount of at least $250.

Along Penn street in the Twelfth and Seventeenth wards considerable damage was done, and a good many cellars flooded.

At the corner of Seventh avenue and Smithfield the street was overflowed—the water in some places being at least two feet deep.

Several cellars along Water street were flooded as also in Pipetown.

IN ALLEGHENY.

The Federal street sewer at the corner of North avenue was completely choked last evening, and some ten or twelve cart loads of dirt were deposited upon the street.

The cellar of the Second National Bank, occupied as a basket and notion store, was flooded and the stock damaged and in some instances destroyed.

The cellar kitchens on Morgan street all suffered more or less.

The main sewer at the foot of Troy Hill, below Eberhardt's brewery, was choked yesterday afternoon, and subsequently about thirty feet of it burst and the water rushed in a torrent down to the river.

The Troy Hill Road from the Orphan's House to the foot of the Hill was badly washed, in some places the soil being entirely removed and huge boulders brought to the surface.

At that part of Troy Hill Road from the Orphan's House to the beginning of Lowrie street where the new water pipes are being laid, the soil was entirely washed away and a ditch some two feet in depth left.

SOUTH SIDE.

Many hundred bushels of dirt were washed from the hill sides on to Carson street, obstructing traffic for some time.

The Birmingham cars had to stop running through for some time.

At Bailey's hollow, South Pittsburgh, near the foot of the Brownsville road, many cart-loads of dirt were washed and Carson street completely covered.

STRANGE SUICIDE.

A Young Lady of Wheeling Disappears—Another Victim of Trashy Literature.

The sensation which is creating excitement in Wheeling just now is the sudden disappearance of a young lady. The young lady, whose full name is Sarah Ann Bedson, is about seventeen years of age, the daughter of Mr. George Bedson, a boiler, who works in the Top Mill. Mrs. Bedson was absent from home Thursday evening nursing a neighbor's sick child, not returning until about 2 o'clock Friday morning. During the evening several young persons came in and sat some time. Miss Bedson tried to induce one of these visitors to insert her name and after it "died July 18th," in the death column of the family Bible. She not only asked once but several times, and even asked her father to do it. After the visitors had left, Mr. Bedson and two daughters, the youngest about ten, went up stairs to retire. Sarah Ann put her sister to bed and started down stairs; her little sister called her back and asked if she was not coming to bed; she replied, "You and father can sleep here, I will sleep in the bottom of the great Ohio river. My bed is thousands of yards long and hundreds of yards wide." She then passed down stairs and out the front door. Her father hearing her go out, thought she was going to the neighbor's to see where her mother was, or else going to sit on the porch. Since that time she has not been seen. When her father got up in the morning, he looked in Sarah's bed room and seeing two in the bed, went to his work. One in the bed was Mrs. Bedson, who had come home unbeknown to her husband about 2 o'clock in the morning. When Mr. Bedson came home to his breakfast about 6 o'clock they missed their daughter and the search at once commenced. Mr. Bedson remembered seeing his daughter put a note in the Bible the evening before, and opening it the note was found, of which the following is a copy:

"Sarah Bedson thinks she will die on the 18th of July, simply because she is tired of living."

Seines were at once procured and drawn in the river, but the body could not be found. The water being so high, it is probable that if she did throw herself in the river, the body was carried off. The parents of Miss Bedson say that she has frequently of late wished herself dead. She was subject to spells of stammering. At such times her speech was very imperfect, and she would become very much depressed about it. At such times she would not unfrequently say, "I wish I was at the bottom of the river; no one would marry me; I cannot go in company, and there is no pleasure for me."

Miss Bedson worked at Mrs. Rohan's dress-making establishment, and on Thursday she told the girls in the shop that "one would be missing soon." Last Sunday she gave away all of the little trinkets and jewelry that she had, and even many of her clothes. It is thought that the real cause of her suicide, for none doubt that she is drowned, came from reading trashy novels and cheap literature. She was an inveterate reader of such stuff. At last accounts the body had not been recovered.

The First Mortuary Report From Our Sister City—Interesting Statistics—Mortality Among Children.

We present to our readers, below, a tabular statement of the deaths in Allegheny city since the first of the present month, which cannot fail to be interesting as it is the first official record in our sister city, ever published. MILLVALE BOROUGH.

Municipal Troubles—They Find Their Way Into Court—Issuance of a Mandamus.

The municipal condition of Millvale borough is in a very peculiar condition. The members of Councils and Burgess were elected in October, 1870, under the general election law, but this law was repealed, and in 1871 the election was held under the provision of the charter of the borough, which fixed the day of election on the first Wednesday of May. Previous to the election, however, the law of East Birmingham which designated the third Friday of May as the day for holding the elections, was extended to Millvale borough; but this fact was not known until after the election had taken place.

In consequence of this mistake the new members of Council and the Burgess could not assume the offices, and the old members held over. Some time since the members of Council all resigned, but the Burgess, T. J. Munden, refused to follow their example. He issued a proclamation for the election of six members of Council, but declined to call for the election of a Burgess. This course did not meet the approval of some of the residents of the borough, and Saturday morning Mr. J. I. Williams, through his attorney, C. Fetterman, Esq., applied in the Court of Common Pleas for a writ of mandamus directed to Burgess Munden, requiring him to show cause why he should not be commanded to issue a precept for the election of a Burgess. The Court granted a rule on respondent to show cause why the writ should not issue, and made it returnable next Saturday morning. The muddle, it is hoped, will soon be cleared up.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Sixth Warders Remonstrate Against the Erection of a Pest House—New Route for Night Soilers.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health was held on Saturday afternoon, at the Board room.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The committee of citizens from the Sixth ward appointed to visit the board and present a petition and remonstrance protecting them against the proposed erection of a hospital until that district was admitted and their petition received and filed. It contained one hundred and sixty-three names.

J. K. Smith, a resident of Logan-street, asked for a remission of a fine that had been imposed on him for not promptly abating a nuisance. His request was not granted.

Hereafter the route for night soilers will be as follows: For all that territory of which Wylie street and Fifth avenue above Grant is the natural outlet, down Grant to First avenue, down First to Market, down Market to Water, and thence to the dumping ground. For the balance of the city, to Liberty street or Duquesne way by the shortest route to the dumping ground.

The health officer was instructed to proceed against C. Wetzell, of 505 Penn street, for violating the ordinance prohibiting the throwing of garbage upon the public streets. On motion adjourned.

All those elegant summer suits have not yet been disposed of at the Boston One Price Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, and patrons may still be supplied with cheap, stylish and comfortable garments, under which they will be better enabled to withstand the heat.

POLITICAL.

Organization of the Second Ward Republican Grant Club—Large Attendance and Much Enthusiasm.

In the old Second ward the Republican spirit that has so long made it conspicuous and earnest in the support of the principles of the party, is awakening, and it seems quite likely that both in October and November the same good majorities will be rolled up for our cause as have hitherto earned for the district the proud title of "Banner Ward." Already we have noted the fact of a preliminary meeting having been held in the ward for the purpose of organization. On Saturday night, at the school-house, there met together a large number of the representative citizens of the ward, for the purpose of electing permanent officers, and arranging details so as to put the club in good working order for the campaign. Dr. S. M. Young was called to the chair, and W. C. Smythe, Esq., officiated as secretary. After a few spirited remarks from the presiding officer, a committee of three was appointed on nominations, consisting of Messrs. James Black, Capt. J. U. Gill and Capt. Louis Hager. The committee retired and during its absence able and eloquent speeches were made by Gen. J. Bowman Sweitzer, H. H. McCormick and others, all of whom made earnest appeals to the Republicans to be up and at the enemy, and forcibly presented the great advantage to be derived in a political campaign from close organization, unity of purpose and earnest work. The speakers were frequently applauded, there being much enthusiasm manifested among all present. The Committee on Organization having returned reported the following gentlemen for permanent officers: President, Col. William Phillips; Vice Presidents, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer, J. McD. Crossan, Col. Wm. Woods, Jno. C. Mattern, D. W. C. Carroll, John Wilson, Capt. Louis Hager; Secretaries, W. C. Smythe, J. E. Milliken, T. P. Houston; Treasurer, Dr. Addison Arthurs; ex-officio member of all committees, W. C. Smythe.

The nominations were accepted and resulted in the election of the gentlemen named. Finance, Executive and Marching Corps committees were then announced and confirmed. Dr. Young, the temporary chairman, vacated the place, and Gen. Sweitzer assumed the honor, making a very neat address, in which he urged unity and work as essential to success. Messrs. W. C. Smythe, Frank Loudon, R. A. Thompson, Dr. Arthurs and several others made stirring addresses, after which resolutions we readopted, and the meeting adjourned with three times three cheers for Grant, Wilson, Hartranft, Allen, and the entire State and County tickets. The meeting was one of the best attended and most enthusiastic thus far held during this campaign, and gives full evidence that the old Second ward is yet all right for a good Republican majority.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

George Allen was sent to the Work House on Saturday for ninety days by Mayor Callow for stealing a bottle of whisky from Wagner's saloon on Beaver avenue, Allegheny.

The hearing in the case of Robert Flinders, who shot Robert Kirkwood was again adjourned for a week on Saturday, Kirkwood not being sufficiently recovered to be present.

In the Cook-Jordan case before Alderman McMasters, Jordan waived a hearing and gave bail for Court.

For vagrancy Edward Madrin was on Saturday morning sent to the Work House for thirty days.

Ann Leonard was on Saturday morning sent to jail for ten days on her own confession of vagrancy.

Mike Graham was locked up at the Allegheny station-house for robbing the till of French's tavern, on Beaver avenue. He was caught in the act by Mr. French and by him brought to the lock-up.

Mayor Callow on Saturday sent George Allen and Bridget O'Connor to the Work House for thirty days each.

Before Alderman D. L. Smith, on Saturday, Matthew Arbeeka made an information charging Mrs. Lutz with disorderly conduct in throwing water on deponent's child. Both parties reside in the same house, on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, and do not seem to get along very well together.

Jacob Webber alleges that on the first day of July he showed to John Keyser one dollar's worth of Monongahela bridge tickets and a new knife valued at two dollars; that the latter then took the said articles from him and refuses to return them after they had been demanded from him. The allegations above have been made the basis for a suit that was entered Saturday morning before Alderman Smith.

Mrs. O'Brien makes information before Alderman Smith charging Robert Mullin with stealing five dollars' worth of jewelry.

J. Bradley, keeper of a livery stable, makes an information before Alderman O'Donnell against E. C. Brush for carelessly or wilfully breaking and damaging deponent's buggy to the extent of one hundred dollars. Warrant issued.

John F. Wright on Saturday made an information before the Mayor against Con Tomer for felonious assault and battery. Deponent alleges that on the 29th day of June Tomer cut him with a knife at East Liberty, and injured him so severely that he was, until now, unable to make this information. Warrant issued.

On Saturday evening Mayor Callow took two informations: John C. Davis entered suit against Mary Brinn for disorderly conduct and striking his wife on the head with a heavy tin bucket, and then the defendant in this case charged John C. Davis and his wife Mary with disorderly conduct, and striking her with a broom.

Joseph Blasharkey made an information Saturday afternoon, before Alderman Taylor, charging Charles Olish with the larceny of $16 from his house in Clearfield county. A warrant was issued for the defendant.

Isaac Pope made information before Alderman McMasters Saturday afternoon against Bridget O'Donnell for beating his wife with a broom-stick. The parties live on Gibbon street. Defendant was arrested and held in bail for a hearing.

Before Alderman D. L. Smith, on Saturday, in cases of Paul Rice vs. Mrs. White, for disorderly conduct; Chris. Freund vs. George Blaum, for assault and battery, and of Chris. Keshler vs. Henry Nagh, for obtaining board under false pretenses, warrants were issued.

A warrant was issued by Alderman McMasters on Saturday afternoon for the arrest of Henderson Weise, charged on the oath of James McDonald with false pretenses in paying him a check on the Workingmen's Savings Bank, of Allegheny, for $81.90, which check proved to be valueless.

Thomas Butler and Patrick Hughes are engaged in three suits before 'Squire Schmolze, of Ormsby, all being of an unimportant character.

The man John Pearson who is charged with adultery by Jackson Blue, was arrested on Saturday, in Maryland, by Detective Wier, of Mayor Callow's force, and is now in the Allegheny lock-up, awaiting a hearing.

Mayor Blackmore had tweney-one common cases before him on Saturday morning and sixty-six yesterday morning.

Mayor Callow yesterday morning fined James Crilly and William Mitzing $25 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Nailor Fleming was sent to the Work House for six months yesterday for vagrancy.

George Allen was committed to the Work House for ninety days by Mayor Callow on a charge of vagrancy.

A BRIDAL QUARTETTE.

Sisters and Twins—A Quiet Wedding Ceremony.

This city, says the Cumberland News, seems to be a favorite resort of persons contemplating a partnership in the bonds of wedlock. On Wednesday there came here by Captain Sheridan's train on the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad, one wedding party; on Thursday three, and yesterday four, who departed on the same day by the same means, having in the meantime reached the summit of happiness, namely, the married state. Of the four couples yesterday, two deserve more than a passing mention. Four people similarly circumstanced as to age, consanguinity and unity of intention are not often read or heard of, and less frequently met with. One party came from Lanaconing, and was unattended by bridesmaids or groomsmen. The brides-expectant were sisters and twins, were dressed alike and looked very much alike. Their "intendeds" were not relatives, as they should have been to have completed the romance, but were of the same age, which is singular in view of the other circumstances. On alighting from the train, the anxious quartette proceeded to the residence of Rev. H. Nice, Pastor of the Bedford street M. E. Church, by whom they were made pairs in one breath by the same ceremony. They then proceeded to a photographer's gallery, and obtained likenesses of themselves, and when last seen were as happy and satisfied a party as one would wish to see. We do not know whether they intend occupying the same house, and tread the path of life together generally but we suppose they do, from their fraternal beginning.

RAILROAD CASE.

The Bankruptcy of the Buffalo, Corry and Pittsburgh Railroad Company.

In the U. S. Court at Erie, on Saturday the following local case was disposed of:

Jerome J. Fargo, of Buffalo, on May 1st., filed a Petition in the Northern District of New York, asking that the Buffalo, Corry and Pittsburg R. R. Co. be declared bankrupt, the final hearing of which is set down for the 29th inst. Since the filing of this petition, judgements against the company have been issued and levies made, and the property of the company in this State, was advertised to be sold on Tuesday, the 16th. On the 15th inst., Mr. Fargo filed his petition in this Court and obtained a preliminary injunction restraining the sale on the 16th, and requiring the executive creditors, to show cause on the 19th, why such an injunction should not be made perpetual. The motion was argued yesterday, C. O. Bowman and C. B. Curtis, Esq., appearing for the execution creditors, and M. Crosby, Esq., appearing for the company. The court held that the bankrupt law suspends the proceedings of the State Courts and decided against the application of the preliminary injunction, but granted the injunction restraining the creditors from interfering with the property at issue.

Protect Your Property.

The best rod we know of is "Munson's Copper Tubular Lightning Rod, with Spiral Flanges." Other things being equal, the conducting power of a rod is equal to its extent of surface, as the electricity plays over the surface, diffusing itself through the mass. The rod we have named, in both material and form, meets more perfectly than any other now in use the requisites of a powerful conductor, with the advantages of lightness and cheapness, costing but little more than the heavy iron rod, while it has over six times the conducting capacity.—United Presbyterian, (Pittsburgh.)

A MAD CAREER.

The Eccentricities of an Infuriated Steer

On Saturday evening, about seven o'clock, a solitary steer was observed wending its way with some amount of eccentricity along Rebecca street, Allegheny. Of course the boys of the neighborhood soon found out the presence in the vicinity of an unprotected quadruped, and at once began to raise what they termed "fun," therewith. Stones, brick-bats, sticks and all other kinds of missiles were quickly gathered and discharged at the unoffending animal. Not used to finding its anatomy reduced to the purpose of a target, the steer became infuriated, and with tail erect broke into a furious run. Down the street it plunged towards Chartiers street, and when near that thoroughfare it ran at a boy, knocked him down, trampled on him and bruised him badly. Along Chartiers it rushed to Beaver avenue, and at the corner of Beaver and Washington, meeting an obstruction in the shape of a man, it unceremoniously moved him out of the way by throwing him over his back. Here the animal seemed to be overcome, and dropped to the ground. A crowd soon gathered round, expecting to see the steer die; but suddenly recovering, it sprang to its feet, knocked down another man, and rushed on toward Market street. At the corner of Market and Adams, a man was crossing the street with a five-year-old child in his arms, and the animal dropped his head in the abdomen of the man, who fell himself and dropped his load. On Adams street a crowd which had been in pursuit overtook the infuriated quadruped, and most of them produced fire arms of one sort or another. A volley was fired, which resulted in several bullets and many charges of shot entering his carcass, but still the animal refused to die. Ultimately a citizen appeared with an axe and severed the wounded steer's head from its body.

Fortunately, though six persons were knocked down by the maddened creature, none sustained very serious injuries save the five-year-old child, who received a stunning blow on the back of the head.

ANOTHER BURGLARY ON PENN AVE.

The Burglars Foiled.

On Friday the premises of Mr. John Foerster, who resides on Penn avenue above the forks of the road, were burglariously entered by two of the gang of thieves who are so successfully carrying on their nefarious business, and defying the vigilance of the police. It appears that these two knights of the "Jimmy" forced open a rear shutter on the first floor, and thus effected an entrance to the house. They evidently at once proceeded to a cupboard on the first floor, but not finding anything worth taking there, they proceeded to the second story and commenced an investigation of that portion of the residence. On this floor Mr. Foerster sleeps, and the burglars awakened him by their noise. He at once jumped from his bed and clutched the shot-gun which was in his bed-room. The men heard him and proceeded to make a precipitate retreat through a rear door. Mr. F. threw up a window and discharged the contents of his gun at one of them, who was scaling a rear wall. Whether he wounded him or not has not been ascertained. In their haste in departing the men left everything they had collected.

Mr. Foerster is the well-known brewer and father-in-law of Detective John Messner.

MARITAL JEALOUSY.

Alleged Felonious Assault and Battery.

On Saturday evening about seven o'clock, Mr. Ed. Weyman met on Cedar avenue, Allegheny, the wife of Mr. John Johnston. The lady and gentleman were acquaintances, and naturally a halt ensued and a conversation took place. The talking was done on one of the frequented highways of the city and near a spot where one of the city's gas lamps shed its enlightening rays. But men are rash and jealous now-a-days, and if Weyman's statements are true, Mrs. Johnston's husband is certainly both. While the two were talking in a friendly, pleasant manner, it is alleged, Johnston allowed his angry passions to arise and in this condition approached the gossiping couple. Weyman states that before he was fairly aware of the husband's approach he was awakened to the fact by the pointed argument of a knife which was applied by Johnston to his head and back. So pointed was the proof of Johnston's appearance that Weyman had to visit the office of Dr. Meyer and get his wounds dressed. He then visited Mayor Callow's office and made an information against Johnston, accusing him of aggravated assault and battery, and His Honor issued a warrant for his arrest.

WONDER WORLD.

The Great Center of Amusement.

If downright energy and indomitable perseverance are worth anything in a man's character in this world, then indeed Major Burnell is an exceedingly rich man, for he possesses those qualities to a most wonderful extent. A few years ago he established on rather a moderate scale, the Pittsburgh Museum, which has slowly and steadily expanded until it is now one of the most extensive and interesting in the country. It now occupies a large building especially arranged for the purposes to which applied, and is fitted out with great good taste and at much expense. But the building has nothing to do with its contents, for the latter make up a minature world of wonders. Rare, valuable and interesting curiosities in animal life, and from nature's groves, birds of the air, monsters from the deep, revolting reptiles, coins of the old and new worlds, relics of war and of antiquity, works of art in sculpture and painting, and, in short, a most enchanting and wonderful collection of objects, rare, beautiful and costly. It is a perfect school of attraction, and more can be learned in one hour's visit than in a whole day's reading. Ladies and children should attend and they will always be politely received, the accomplished wife of the Major having charge of the indoor management. Let no stranger fail to visit the museum, for he is assured that it is the chief point of interest in our city.

A Card.

Having disposed of my interest in the Singer Sewing-machine agency, I have accepted the general agency for the celebrated "Light Running Domestic." I will remain in that elegant establishment, No. 24 Sixth street, late fitted up for the Singer agency. All the employees of the late firm of Straw & Morton, the Singer agents, will remain without exception.

The Domestic is a recent improvement on the Singer, resembling it in many respects. It has fifty-two less pieces, and runs one-half lighter and one-half swifter. All the wearing parts are made of hardened steel with burnished bearings. To my friends and the public generally I extend a cordial invitation to call and examine the superior merits of the Domestic. Respectfully,

HOWARD MORTON.

Political matters are beginning to warm up a little, now that the issue has been squarely made, but no matter how high the excitement runs, it is important that young gentlemen and old gentlemen, and all in need of boys, youth's, or men's clothing, should remember that at the popular store, south-west corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue, Messrs. Urling, Folansbee & Co., will continue to supply their patrons with stylish suits at the same low rates.

THE WAGNER SHOOTING.

The Parties Arrested and Held to Answer.

Last week the GAZETTE published the particulars of a shooting affray which occurred at the house of Christian Wagner, who keeps a vineyard in lower St. Clair township. Five men, on Sunday week, entered Wagner's house and demanded something to drink, but were refused. All were more or less under the influence of liquor, and they soon began to act in a disorderly manner. Mr. Wagner ordered them to leave his house, but they refused. He then attempted to eject them, and a scuffle ensued, in the course of which one of the ruffians placed a pistol to his head and fired, the ball taking effect in his temple, but fortunately not causing a fatal wound. The men were not known to Mr. Wagner.

Squire Suter, of Allentown, heard of the occurrence, and on the day after the shooting visited Mr. Wagner's house and took his information. He then, assisted by his two constables, set to work to find out who the would-be assassin was, and owing to his indefatigability he has succeeded in arresting the whole five men who were together in Wagner's house on the night of the occurrence. On Saturday night he held the men to answer a charge of assault with intent to kill.

WARLIKE BARRICADE.

Second Avenue Choked with Cannons.

For several days past there have been standing on Second avenue, between Smithfield street and the Park, four large rifled cannons, mounted on caisons and apparently ready for use at a moments notice. Their presence there has been a mystery to all pedestrians on that throughfare. It seems that they had been stored in a vacant yard nearby by the officers of Knap's Battery where they peacefully stood for some time past. The owners of the yard desiring to build upon it turned out the fierce looking engines of war into the street and there they have been permitted to rest in rain and sunshine ever since. Somebody should either steal them, or the Battery boys should have them housed and not permit such valuable property to go to ruin. They form a grim obstruction in the street, and if no other party will the Street Commissioner should have them removed out of the road. They might be appropriately placed in the Allegheny Park, as articles of curiosity as all these guns have had their day in thundering vengeance against the late Confederate Greeley ites of the South. With canon to the right of it and alligators to the left of it, verily, Second avenue is now a threatening looking thoroughfare. Let the guns be hidden before the "Bull Run" battles of the campaign shall commence.
